

Annexure B: Category of firms (Example)

In response to the bid, bidders are required to indicate the areas of law they are applying for in the Panel of Legal Services (the selection must be on the letterhead of the bidder). ECIC will appoint to the panel, all bidders who achieve the minimum required points, in areas of law they have indicated. Bidders are allowed to use their own template, but such template must include areas of law as indicated per the table herewith.

PRACTICE AREA	MARK "X"
Administration Law and Procurement Law
Company Law
Competition Law
Constitutional and administrative law (including public procurement)
Construction Law (related to Project Management)
Conveyancing
Corporate and Contract Law
Environmental Law
Financial services laws (Including insurance laws)
General litigation
General legal assistance (such as general litigation, damages claims, etc)
Labour Law, Employment Law and labour dispute resolution (Conciliation, Mediation, Arbitration and facilitation)
Legal advice on general legal matters and/or topics.
Legal advice on general legal matters and/or topics.
Opinion on legislation and legal topics.
Opinion on legislations and legal topics
Property Law
Public Sector Law
Taxation	