1. PURPOSE

The purpose of this RFQ is to appoint a suitably qualified and experienced service provider to develop the Stakeholder Participation Strategy, brochure and park stakeholder participation strategy template. This development will be done in close co-operation with the relevant SANParks staff members.

2. BACKGROUND

South African National Parks (SANParks) is a public entity initially established in terms of the now repealed National Parks Act, 57 of 1976 and continues to exist in terms of the National Environment Act: Protected Areas Act (NEM: PAA); with the mandate to conserve; protect; control; manage national parks and other defined protected areas and their biological diversity (biodiversity). SANParks is responsible for a system of estuaries, marine protected areas, national parks, protected environments and world heritage sites which results in a diversity of stakeholders that participate in the various processes to develop and review management plans.

SANParks is legally required to develop and review Management Plans for protected areas (marine protected areas, national parks, protected environments and world heritage sites) under its management.

These obligations are established through several legislative instruments. These are the National Environmental Management: Protected Areas Act, 2003 (Act No. 57 of 2003), The World Heritage Convention Act, 1999 (Act No. 49 of 1999), National Environmental Management: Integrated Coastal Management Act, 2008 (Act No. 24 of 2008) and Biodiversity Act, 2004 (Act No. 10 of 2004). Together, these instruments provide the legislative framework governing the development, approval, implementation and revision of Management Plans. One of the legal requirements is to engage interested and affected parties during the development / revision of management plans.

The objective of a management plan is to ensure the protection, conservation and management of the protected area concerned in a manner which is consistent with the objectives of NEM: PAA and for the purpose it was declared.

SANParks requires a Stakeholder Participation Strategy (and accompanying brochure) to provide the necessary guidance during the development / revision of management plans.

SANParks recognises that these protected areas belong to the people of South Africa. As custodians of these national assets, we encourage stakeholder participation processes which strengthen community-park relations by incorporating local communities as partners in the management and conservation of our natural and cultural resources.

SANParks' current key principles of stakeholder participation are:

- The public should have a say in decisions about actions that affect their lives;
- That sustainable decisions are taken;
- That the public participation process will:
  - Seek out and facilitate the involvement of those potentially affected;
  - Announce the opportunity for participation in several ways.
  - Provide participants with the information they need to participate in a meaningful way.
  - Facilitate the understanding of that information.
  - Ensure that processes recognise all knowledge, indigenous and ordinary, as well as the diversity of values and opinions that exist between stakeholders.
  - Provide various opportunities for comment.
  - Provide sufficient time to comment;
  - Communicate to participants how their input affected the decision;
  - Ensure transparency, honesty and integrity on the part of all involved in the process;
  - Recognise budgetary constraints and ensure that the process is cost effective.

During 2025/26 the Table Mountain National Park and Table Mountain National Park Marine Protected Area management plans have been revised and developed. A central component of this process has been a series of stakeholder workshops, designed to ensure inclusive participation, joint learning, and recognition of diverse knowledge systems, values, and opinions. The input from the workshops provided valuable insight and information that was used to revise/compile the various sections in the management plans.

Based on the experience gained over several years as well as during the Table Mountain National Park process SANParks has noted that it is important to be sensitive to cultural and socio-economic diversity, communication styles and language used, and the physical settings of workshops.
