1. PURPOSE

- 1.1. To appoint a multidisciplinary service provider to develop feasibility study (ies) and business plan (s) including 3-dimensional visual architectural design of infrastructures for the establishment of Biodiversity Economy Mega Hubs in all nine (9) Provinces, respectively, for a period of twelve (12) months.

2. INTRODUCTION AND BACKGROUND

- 2.1. South Africa's natural capital, in the form of ecosystems, biodiversity, and natural resources underpins the economy and well-being of society. Over the last twenty years, there has been increased recognition of the value of biodiversity in quantifiable economic terms, and its essential role in promoting sustainable development and poverty alleviation. Biodiversity conservation is not only a key issue in the South African environmental arena, but the use of biological resources has been identified as a key economic strategy of millions of rural and urban dwellers in South Africa.
- 2.2. However, South Africa currently exports between 15 000 to 25 000 tons of indigenous biological resources as raw materials, and in the process, exports the much-needed jobs, innovation chasm, and the requisite skills that should have been localised. The National Biodiversity Economy Strategy (NBES) and its implementation plan (Biodiversity Lab Outcomes- Operation Phakisa) have identified several initiatives that are being implemented in the nine (9) provinces of South Africa by the year 2030 as key in transforming the wildlife, bioprospecting, and ecotourism sector and develop rural and urban economies.
- 2.3. Therefore, this project seeks to design and develop comprehensive feasibility studies and business plans including 3-dimensional visual architectural designs of infrastructures that would assist in localising the value chains of South Africa's indigenous biological resources to produce proudly South African finished products from wildlife, bioprospecting, and ecotourism subsectors for domestic, regional, and international markets.
