TERMS OF REFERENCE

Design and Implementation Evaluation of the Strategic Health Innovation Partnerships (SHIP)
at the South African Medical Research Council (SAMRC) for a period of 9 months

1. BACKGROUND

- 1.1. South Africa stands at the crossroads concerning the tremendous health challenges that we face in our diverse society. The contribution that innovation for health can make towards addressing these challenges must be enabled and harnessed to raise the health profile of the country, and to reduce the serious inequalities in our society, particularly in respect of health, health behaviour and the provision of health services.
- 1.2. The Strategic Health Innovation Partnerships (SHIP) was established in 2013 as an innovation entity of the South African Medical Research Council (SAMRC) with start-up funding from the Department of Science and Innovation (DSI, formerly Department of Science and Technology), National Treasury, Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation and the National Department of Health for the development of new drugs, vaccines, diagnostics and devices and other innovative health solutions.
- 1.3. The overall function of SHIP is to fund, coordinate and actively manage multi-disciplinary, multi-institutional product research, development and innovation programmes from concept to the marketplace, to address priority diseases and health problems. Thus, SHIP was established to not only focus on the development of new health solutions, but also to facilitate realignment of health innovation initiatives in the country, incorporating a health product development value chain approach.
- 1.4. Informed by key health innovation priorities in South Africa, the DSI and the SAMRC had independently established various health innovation initiatives and, using these as its foundation, SHIP's first success was therefore the reduction of fragmentation between these government entities. The initial focus areas of SHIP were HIV, TB, malaria, non-communicable diseases (NCD), and medical devices, and new areas were gradually added to the portfolio in response to national initiate:

imperatives. These were: maternal and child health (MCH), antimicrobial resistance (AMR), precision medicine, and digital health and COVID-19. In addition to supporting the development of specific solutions such as medical devices, therapeutics, etc., SHIP also responded to the need to support innovation-enabling, cross-cutting platforms, such as bioinformatics, and animal models and platforms.

- 1.5. The primary focus of SHIP was on funding and managing earlier stage R & D and innovation activities to build a pipeline of projects that can then be commercialised in partnership with later-stage funders such as the Technology Innovation Agency (TIA), the Industrial Development Corporation (IDC), and other strategic partners. However, as an entity of the SAMRC, the scope of SHIP funding spanned the entire research and product development chain.
- 1.6. SHIP is an integral part of the implementation of the Health Innovation aspects of the National Bio-economy Strategy of 2013, and is expected to play a critical role in the implementation of the “Health Mission” of the Decadal Plan that is being developed by the DSI.

2. THE OBJECTIVES OF THE INTERVENTION

The roles and objectives of SHIP are, among others:

- 2.1. to actively manage and co-ordinate health innovation in South Africa within the strategic disease and technology focus areas;
- 2.2. to provide strategic scientific leadership, through the scientific advisory committees, for each disease area;
- 2.3. to seek, manage and fund multi-disciplinary, multi-institutional product research, development and innovation projects from discovery to proof-of-concept;
- 2.4. to attract public, private and international funding partners to the health innovation initiatives;

initiate:

- 2.5. to enhance the capacity of South African science in the research and development of novel or improved drugs, vaccines and other biologicals, diagnostics and medical devices in the identified priority diseases; and
- 2.6. to develop pathways to facilitate the seamless movement of new products and services from the laboratory to the marketplace;
- 2.7. to facilitate, through partnerships with local universities, science councils and the private sector, the transfer of research outputs into improved health outcomes and/or social benefit.

3. PROBLEM STATEMENT

- 3.1. The intervention has not been evaluated since inception as required by the DSI Evaluation Guideline, which recommends that evaluations be conducted at key stages of the intervention cycle. Therefore, it is important to assess the successes and challenges of the SHIP Programme with the view to improve the effectiveness of the interventions and to inform programming decisions.

4. PURPOSE OF THE EVALUATION

- 4.1. The purpose of this document is to request proposals from suitably qualified service providers to conduct an implementation evaluation of the Strategic Health Innovation Partnership at the South African Medical Research Council.
- 4.2. The aim of the evaluation is to review the design and assess the implementation of the SHIP at the SAMRC and to present the lessons learned and plans for ongoing development and implementation of SHIP. The findings of the evaluation will be used to inform better decision-making regarding implementation of the programme and guide for the implementation of similar interventions in the future.

initiate:

5. FOCUS AND SCOPE OF THE EVALUATION

5.1. Key Evaluation Questions

The evaluation will respond to the following key questions:

- 5.1.1. Is the SHIP programme properly conceptualised?
- 5.1.2. Is SHIP implemented according to design?
 - 5.1.2.1. Have the critical components of SHIP implemented with the allocated resources?
- 5.1.3. To what extent has the DSI funding enabled SHIP to leverage additional funding?
- 5.1.4. Were the targeted groups reached and how do the target group(s) respond to the SHIP programme?
- 5.1.5. To what extent is the SHIP programme relevant in enhancing the capacity of South African science in the research and development of novel or improved drugs, vaccines and diagnostics in the identified priority diseases?
- 5.1.6. To what extent are the SHIP disease focus areas relevant to the South African burden of disease?
- 5.1.7. How does the SHIP programme contribute to the mandate of the DSI?
- 5.1.8. Has the intervention achieved the intended outcomes?
- 5.1.9. Has the SHIP programme made the anticipated emerging impact and can this emerging impact (positive and negative changes) unequivocally be attributed to the intervention?

Please note that the list of key questions above is not exhaustive, the service provider is expected to propose evaluation questions and sub-questions in line with the evaluation purpose.
