These secondary Options require a bond or guarantee "in the form set out in the Scope". Pro forma documents for these bonds and guarantees are provided here for convenience but are to be treated as part of the Scope.

The Consultant shall guarantee his ASGI-SA Obligations by providing the Employer with an ASGI-SA Guarantee in the form provided here.

[Note to contract compiler: If there are no ASGI-SA Obligations in this contract, delete the above statement]

The organisation providing the bond / guarantee does so by copying the pro forma document onto his letterhead without any change to the text or format and completing the required details. The completed document is then given to the Employer within the time stated in the contract.

PART 2: PRICING DATA

PSC3 Option C

Document reference	Title	No of pages
C2.1	Pricing assumptions: Option C	[•]
C2.2	The activity schedule	[•]

C2.1 Pricing assumptions: Option C

How work is priced and assessed for payment

Clause 11 in NEC3 Professional Services Contract, (PSC3) Option C states:

Identified and defined terms	11
	11.2	(13) The Time Charge is the sum of the products of each of the staff rates multiplied by the total staff time appropriate to that rate properly spent on work in this contract.
		(14) The Activity Schedule is the activity schedule unless later changed in accordance with this contract.
		(16) The Price for Services Provided to Date is the Time Charge for work which has been completed.
		(18) The Prices are the lump sum prices for each of the activities on the Activity Schedule unless later changed in accordance with this contract.

This confirms that Option C is a cost reimbursable form of contract where the Consultant is paid staff rates for hours properly spent on completed work at each assessment date.

Function of the Activity Schedule

In Option C the Activity Schedule is only used as a means of arriving at the total of the Prices which becomes the 'target'. Clause 54 requires that a comparison is then made between this total of the Prices and the total amounts paid at the Time Charge. The difference is then shared between the Parties in the manner stated in clause 54. (This is the "gain" for being under the target and the "pain" for being over the target). This arrangement incentivises the Consultant to perform better than he tendered to do when formulating his activity schedule at the time of tender. The target is adjusted by compensation events in order to keep an equitable share arrangement.

The Activity Schedule is only a pricing document. Clause 53.1 in Option A states: "Information in the Activity Schedule is not Scope". Specifications and descriptions of the service or any constraints on how it is to be done are included in the Scope and per Clause 21.1, "The Consultant Provides the Services in accordance with the Scope" and therefore not in accordance with the Activity Schedule.

Link between programme and activity schedule

Clause 31.4 states that "The Consultant provides information which shows how each activity on the Activity Schedule relates to the operations on each programme which he submits for acceptance". Ideally the tendering consultant will develop a high level programme first then resource each activity on the programme and thus arrive at the lump sum price for that activity both of which can be entered into the activity schedule.

Preparing the activity schedule

Generally it is the tendering consultant who prepares the activity schedule by breaking down the work described within the Scope into suitable activities which can be well defined, shown on a programme and priced as a lump sum.

The description of each activity must be sufficient to determine exactly what work is included within it and to know when it has been completed.

The Employer, in his Instructions to Tenderers or in a Tender Schedule, may have listed some items that he requires the Consultant to include in his activity schedule and be priced accordingly.

It is assumed that in preparing his activity schedule the Consultant:

- Has taken account of the guidance given in the PSC3 Guidance Notes;
- Understands the function of the Activity Schedule and how work is priced and paid for in Option C;

- Is aware of the need to link the Activity Schedule to activities shown on each programme which he submits for acceptance by the Employer;
- Has listed and priced activities in the activity schedule which are inclusive of everything necessary and incidental to Providing the Service in accordance with the Scope, as it was at the Contract Date, as well as correct Defects except correcting a Defect for which the Consultant is not liable;
- Has priced work he decides not to show as a separate activity within the Prices of other listed activities in order to fulfil the obligation to complete the service for the tendered total of the Prices.
- Understands there is no adjustment to the lump sum Activity Schedule price if the amount, or quantity, of work within that activity later turns out to be different to that which the Consultant estimated at time of tender. The only basis for a change to the Prices is as a result of a compensation event.

However, the Consultant does not have to allow in his Prices for matters that may arise as a result of a compensation event.

Expenses

Expenses are not included in the activity schedule items and are assessed separately at each assessment date.

Expenses associated with employing a staff member in Providing the Services are listed separately either by the Employer in Contract Data provided by the Employer or by the Consultant in Contract Data provided by the Consultant. As only the expenses listed may be claimed by the Consultant, all other cost to the Consultant associated with Providing the Services must be included within the activity schedule or staff rates.

Rate adjustment for inflation of expenses is explained in the PSC3 Guidance Notes.

Staff rates

When a compensation event occurs changes to the affected Activity Schedule item or new priced items in the Activity Schedule are assessed as the actual Time Charge for work already done and the forecast Time Charge for work not yet done. (See clause 63.1 and 63.14)

The Time Charge is the sum of the products of each of the staff rates multiplied by the total staff time appropriate to that rate properly spent on work in this contract. (Clause 11.2(13))

Tendering consultants are advised to consult the NEC3 Professional Services Contract Guidance Notes and Flow Charts before entering staff rates into Contract Data, or in C2.2 below.

This is because staff rates can be established in one of three ways:

- rates for named staff,
- rates for categories of staff or
- rates related to salaries paid to staff.

Rate adjustment for inflation, if necessary, can be based either on actual salary adjustments or by using Option X1: Price adjustment for inflation. See pages 13 and 14 of the PSC3 Guidance Notes.

C2.2 the activity schedule

Either use this page as a cover page to the Contractor's activity schedule or include here.

An activity schedule could have the following format:

Item No.	Programme Reference	Activity description	Price
		Bulk Density sampling (quantity 600)
		Moisture determination (quantity 600)
		Penetrometer test (quantity 600)
		Ash content (quantity 600)
		CV (quantity 600)
		Travelling/km (estimated 9000km)
		Accommodation (3 star only) X45

PART 3: SCOPE OF WORK

Contents

Penetrometer ;Moisture; CV; Ash content and Density tests on Strategic and Seasonal stockpiles.

Penetrometer tests,

For the Coal Stock Surveys, the penetrometer test must be done on the top surface and through the top 900mm at least, before the density sample is augured. This is to determine the compaction of the top layer compared to the underlying layers, which are usually at a higher and more consistent level.

For a Seasonal or Strategic stockpiling operation, the top surface may be either:

- compacted with haul/dump equipment only,
- just laid down and not compacted yet,
- partially compacted,
- compacted to specification (and ready for the next layer),
- over compacted as with additional maintenance rolling, after the stockpiling has finished.

The penetrometer shall show the depth at which the pile compaction becomes (relatively) consistent. The aim is to obtain a sample which is probably more representative of the bulk of the stockpile. Any such variance in compaction is addressed by removal of the top layer with shovel or mobile equipment and setting the auger onto the new surface. Note must be made of the depth of any coal removed before auguring.

Positioning of the guide plate

After choosing a sample point, the penetrometer must be used to determine the compaction of the top layer and, if different to lower layer compaction, the top layer must be removed to give a flat base for the auger guide plate.

Position the guide plate with its opening over the first sample point and tap the collar down into the coal. Pin the plate down with the four pegs.

Sample auguring

Place the sampling tube through the guide plate hole and carefully rotate, keeping the tube as near vertical as possible. Drill down into the coal for the full useable length of the sampling tube. If penetration becomes too slow or difficult, then remove loose coal and store in the plastic collection bag.

Collection of sample

Scoop out all loose coal in the sampling tube and place in a suitable heavy-duty plastic bag and seal to make airtight. Label the bag and number according to the number given to the sample point and keep for laboratory checks. The sample is now weighed with an assized and certificated portable scale where the net mass of each sample is determined and recorded. A portable tripod must be used for this weighing, to give stability during readings. A certified check weight must be used before every sample is weighed, the sample must be transported as soon as possible to the consultants laboratory to determine the moisture

Volume of coal removed

Insert a new thin plastic sheet or bag into the sample tube and fill with water to just short of the coal surface. While holding the plastic sheet / bag carefully, remove the sampling tube without disturbing the hole and leaving the plastic and water in the hole.

Now top up the lined hole with water to the level of the coal surface as seen through the holes in the guide plate. The total volume of water (in cc.) used to completely fill the hole is recorded against the sample point number. Repeat the above steps at each sample point. An accepted alternative method is to weigh the total volume of water assized and certified portable electronic scale.

All sample holes on the stockpile must be filled and tamped down well in layers

All operating sites must be sampled and results reported within one week of collecting the sample.

An estimate of distance from each site to the laboratory is required.

Table 1 gives an indication of the estimated number of samples for the Duration of the contract with a similar number expected for each of the remaining surveys.

Description of the services

Executive overview

Put yourself in the position of the Consultant's senior management who need a high level overview of what the Employer wants to achieve as a result of these services so that the Consultant can decide whether he has the resources and capability to undertake the work. This is the Employer's purpose of the services.

Interpretation and terminology

If required include here definitions additional to those used in the conditions of contract which are required only for the purpose of making the Scope easier to draft and read. Also list abbreviations used and provide a full interpretation of each one, for example:

The following abbreviations are used in this Scope:

Abbreviation	Meaning given to the abbreviation
ECSA	Engineering Council of South Africa
SACPCMP	South African Council for Project and Construction Management Professionals

Specification and description of the services

The content of this section is the meat of the scope of work and will depend on the nature of the services required. The Consultant may be appointed for a wide range of duties. The range is almost limitless but would typically include:

- Provide services of an advisory or specialist nature.
- Conduct training on an ad hoc basis.
- Manage a service or facility on behalf of the Employer.
- Develop a software application and then implement it throughout the Employer's organisation.
- Act as the architect for the design and supervision of a new building.
- Act as the engineer for the design of a new project or structure.
- Act as a cost engineer or quantity surveyor on a project.
- Act as the Project Manager in terms of an ECC contract or as a project manager for a total project.
- Act as the Supervisor in terms of an ECC contract.

Professional services contracts are by nature specialised and it would be impractical to prescribe formats here to cover such a wide range of duties as those listed above.

For engineering and construction services, document compilers are advised to consult a paper issued by CIDB entitled, "A generic scope of work for services relating to construction works. 18 October 2006". This paper identifies a generic format as well as giving guideline scope of services for the appointment of members of the various statutory councils operating in South Africa such as ECSA, SACQSP, SACAP and SACPCMP.

The Construction Industry Council (UK) has developed a generic approach suitable for the appointment of most professional disciplines in the engineering and construction sector. This requires the Scope to be compiled for stages of the services associated with a project and is described on pages 1 and 3 of the above referenced paper. If this approach were to be followed, this section could be developed as follows:

Stage 1 Preparation

Develop a strategic brief which defines project objectives, business need, acceptance criteria and the Employer's priorities and aspirations:

Stage 2 Concept

Development of initial design which establishes the detailed brief, scope, scale, form and budget for the project culminating in the Concept Report

Stage 3: Design development

Detailed development of approved concept to establish detailed form, character, function and cost plan (Design report)
Review Design Report for conformity with general design intent and Employer's requirements.

Stage 4: Production information

Final detailing, performance definition, specification, sizing and positioning of all systems and components enabling either construction or the production of manufacturing and installation information.

Stage 5: Manufacture, Installation and Construction Information:

Definition of the fabrication, manufacturing details and installation of all components. Review, for adherence to general design intent, the manufacture, installation and construction information prepared by others; and the construction of the Works

Stage 6: Post Practical Completion

Deal with outstanding issues and feedback and assisting with familiarising Project users with the design of the works.

Constraints on how the Consultant Provides the Services.

Management meetings

The conditions of contract (e.g. Clause 15.2) and other sections of this Scope may require that a meeting be held. However the intention of all NEC contracts is that the Parties and their agents use the techniques of partnering to manage the contract by holding meetings designed to pro actively and jointly manage the administration of the contract with the objective of minimising the adverse effects of risks and surprises for both Parties.

Depending on the size and complexity of the services, it is probably beneficial for the Employer's Agent to hold a weekly risk register meeting (Clause 15.2). This could be used to discuss compensation events, subconsulting, overall co-ordination and other matters of a general nature. Separate meetings for specialist activities such as programming and activities of a technical nature may also be warranted.

Describe here the general meetings and their purpose. Provide particulars of approximate times, days, location, and attendance requirements, stipulating that attendees shall have the necessary delegated authority to make decisions in respect of matters discussed at such meetings. The following text could be used as a model for this section:

Regular meetings of a general nature may be convened and chaired by the Employer's Agent as follows:

Title and purpose	Approximate time & interval	Location	Attendance by:
-------------------	-----------------------------	----------	----------------

Risk register and compensation events	Weekly on _____ at _____	[•]	[•]
Overall contract progress and feedback	Monthly on _____ at _____	[•]	Employer's Agent , Consultant and [•] _____

Meetings of a specialist nature may be convened as specified elsewhere in this Scope or if not so specified by persons and at times and locations to suit the Parties, the nature and the progress of the services. Consultant's key persons

State any additional constraining requirements on Consultant's key persons over and above those already stated in clause 22.1 or in the Contract Data. Such as need to notify contact details, leave and mentoring requirements where applicable. Such withholding of payment due to the Consultant does not affect the Employer's right to termination stated in this contract.

Documentation control and retention

Identification and communication

Specify how documentation will be identified with an alpha numeric which indicates source, recipient, communication number etc. Provide details of any particular format or other constraints; for example that all contractual communications will be in the form of properly compiled letters or forms attached to e mails and not as a message in the e mail itself. State any particular routing requirements but note from PSC3 who issues what to whom.

Retention of documents

Clause 13.6 states that the Consultant retains copies of drawings, specifications, reports and other documents which record the services in the form stated in the Scope. State here what that form is. Note the time period for which the Consultant is to retain such documents is the period for retention stated in the Contract Data.

- How expenses for a Task will be assessed and managed.
- (etc)

Health and safety

Clause 25.4 states that the Consultant acts in accordance with the health and safety requirements stated in the Scope. It is suggested that this part of the Scope address how the Consultant acts when doing his services. These requirements may be no more than just complying with the law. However if the Consultant is required to work on Eskom premises, then whatever requirements which personnel working in those premises need to comply with should be included here or referred to in an Annexure. If when doing his services the Consultant is required to carry out a design which needs to take account of certain health and safety criteria, then this should be included in the specification of that design service stated elsewhere in the Scope. A draft for this section could start as follows:

The Consultant shall at all times comply with the health and safety requirements prescribed by law as they may apply to the services.

[If the Consultant may be required to work on Eskom premises, such as a power station, where health and safety requirements additional to those prescribed by law apply, specify these here or state, The Consultant shall comply with the health and safety requirements contained in Annexure _____ to this Scope.]

Preferred subconsultants

PSC3 does not make use of nominated subconsultants but the Employer may list which subconsultants or suppliers the Consultant is required to enter into subcontracts with. This is usually only required where very specialist services need to be obtained from a particular supplier or group of suppliers in order to comply with operational standards.

Subcontract documentation, and assessment of subcontract tenders

Specify any constraints on how the Consultant is to prepare subcontract documentation, whether use of the NEC3 system is compulsory or not (compulsory is recommended) and how subcontract tenders are to be issued, received, assessed (using a joint report?) and awarded.

Limitations on subcontracting

The Employer may require that the Consultant must subcontract certain specialised work, or that the Consultant shall not subcontract more than a specified proportion of the whole of the contract.

Employer's* entry and security control, permits, and site regulations

Sites such as Koeberg Nuclear Power Station have very strict entrance requirements which tendering consultants need to allow for in their prices, and the Consultant has to comply with. State these or similar requirements here. In addition to the above there may be other restrictions once on the site.

People restrictions, hours of work, conduct and records

Restrictions and hours of work may apply on some sites. It is very important that the Consultant keeps records of his people working on the Employer's property, including those of his Subconsultants. State that the Employer's Agent shall have access to these records at any time. These records may be needed when assessing compensation events.
