APPOINTMENT OF SERVICE PROVIDER TO REVIEW AND UPDATE OF THE DRAFT 2014-2019 TAUNG
SKULL FOSSIL SITE INTEGRATED MANAGEMENT PLAN AND ASSOCIATED MANAGEMENT TOOLS

16.REQUEST FOR PROPOSAL

It is intended to appoint an independent, professional and suitably qualified Service provider/s to support the North West Provincial Department of Economic Development, Environment, Conservation and Tourism (DEDECT) in the review and update the draft 2014 -2019 Integrated Management Plan (IMP) together with associated management tools for the Taung Skull Fossil Site.

17.AIM

The reviewed and updated IMP will ensure that the Taung Skull Fossil Site is preserved and managed in a sustainable way by establishing a framework for decision making, including opportunities and long-term objectives, in line with United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organisation (UNESCO) requirements for such plans.

18.OBJECTIVES

The objectives of the project are to:

- 18.1 Review and update the draft 2014-2019 Taung Skull Fossil Site Integrated Management Plan (IMP) and ensure alignment with other management plans and tools;
- 18.2 Review and update the management plans and tools as per the scope of work
- 18.3 Develop a Risk and Disaster Management Plan for the Taung Skull Fossil Site; and
- 18.4 Facilitate the development and execution of a comprehensive public participation consultation process during the update of the IMP.

19.BACKGROUND

19.1 The Taung World Heritage Site

The Taung Skull World Heritage Site is the archaeological site where the fossilised skull of a young child was discovered by miners in 1924 and taken to the noted archaeologist Dr Raymond Dart. The finding of the Taung skull (Australopithecus Africanus) at the Buxton quarry, in the North West Province, was noted to be one of the most significant archaeological accomplishments of the time.

The find effectively advanced the evidence of the existence of early man in Africa by more than a million years. This fossilised skull was the first Australopithecus specimen and had a brain larger than a chimp's but smaller than a human's. This would appear to support Dart's "missing link" interpretation.

Experts say the exact dating of the Taung skull has always been difficult and usually estimate that it dates from the Lower Pleistocene era, which stretched from 11 000 to 1, 8 million years ago. The era saw the emergence of several human predecessor species, as well as small mammals.

This renowned site was proclaimed a UNESCO World Heritage Site and is dedicated to the discovery of the juvenile hominid skull. It is part of the Fossil of Hominid Sites of South Africa world heritage property which also includes the Cradle of Humankind Gauteng) and Makapan Valley (Limpopo).

19.2 The 2010 and 2014- 2019 draft Integrated Management Plan

The World Heritage Convention Act, 1999 (Act 49 of 1999), read with the National Environmental Management: Protected Areas Act, 2003 (Act 57 of 2003), requires an Integrated Management Plan (IMP) for the Taung Skull World Heritage Site, and lays down minimum requirements and procedures for its adoption.

In line with this requirement, the objective of the IMP is to ensure the protection and management of the World Heritage Site in a manner that is consistent with the objectives and principles laid down by the governing Acts.

Following a prescribed consultation process, the appointed Management Authority needs to submit the IMP to the Minister of Forestry Fisheries and Environment for consideration and approval.

The 1st draft Integrated Management Plan (IMP) for the Taung Skull Fossil Site was developed in 2010. Based on comments from the Department of Forestry Fisheries and Environment (DFFE), the 1st draft IMP was reviewed and updated in 2014 culminating in the 2014 -2019 IMP (see Annexure A) by an independent service provider on behalf of the Department and submitted to the DFFE for consideration. The draft 2014-2019 IMP was submitted to DFFE but not approved due to pending alignment with the IMP's of the other components of the Fossil Hominid Sites of South Africa (FHSSA).

As per legislative requirements, the IMP must be reviewed every five years and the current plan needs to be reviewed.

20. POLICIES, PLANS, PROGRAMMES AND MANAGEMENT TOOLS
