3. DESCRIPTION OF THE COMPANY

The Company was established in terms of the Alexkor Limited Act No. 116 of 1992, as amended by the Alexkor Amendment Act No. 29 of 2001. The Company is a listed schedule 2 public entity wholly owned by the government through the Minister of Mineral and Petroleum Resources, being the shareholder representative.

3.1. Functions

The Company has two business units, being the PSJV, and the Alexkor corporate unit. The PSJV is responsible for the mining operation, which is the core business of the Company, and which exploits a large land-based diamond resource and extensive diamondiferous marine deposits along rivers, on beaches and in the sea along the north-west coast of South Africa. These activities are complemented by geology, exploration, ore reserve planning, rehabilitation and environmental management.

The Company is further required, in terms of the Deed of Settlement, to provide residential and guest house services, community services, including upgrades to the Alexander Bay township and improving municipal infrastructure, outside engineering services, external transport services as well as the management of considerable investment funds and traditional support services, such as information systems and human resources. The Company is also seeking to augment its economic diversification through the planned development of the Boegoebaai port and the government's green hydrogen project.

In addition to its mining operations and other various business activities, the Company is investing energy in nurturing a mutually-beneficial relationship with the community known as the Richtersveld. The two parties came together with the 2011 inception of the PSJV, which is an unincorporated joint venture that followed a 2003 land claim by the Richtersveld community. The Richtersveld is home to a great number of the Company's stakeholders, who are key to helping the Company engender the local economic development South Africa needs, while satisfying its shareholder's imperative of growth and prosperity.

3.2. Structure

Internally, the Company's governance is entrusted to the Board, which currently comprises of seven independent non-executive directors. In terms of the Company's Board Charter, the Board delegates authority to the Chief Executive Officer, while the responsibilities of the Board and management remain separate. Specifically, the Chairperson of the Board is responsible for ensuring the integrity and effectiveness of the Board and its committees, while the Chief Executive Officer is responsible for the effective management and running of the business in terms of strategies and objectives approved by the Board.

The company secretarial function of the Company are currently outsourced to a third-party service provider, due to capacity constraints within the Company.

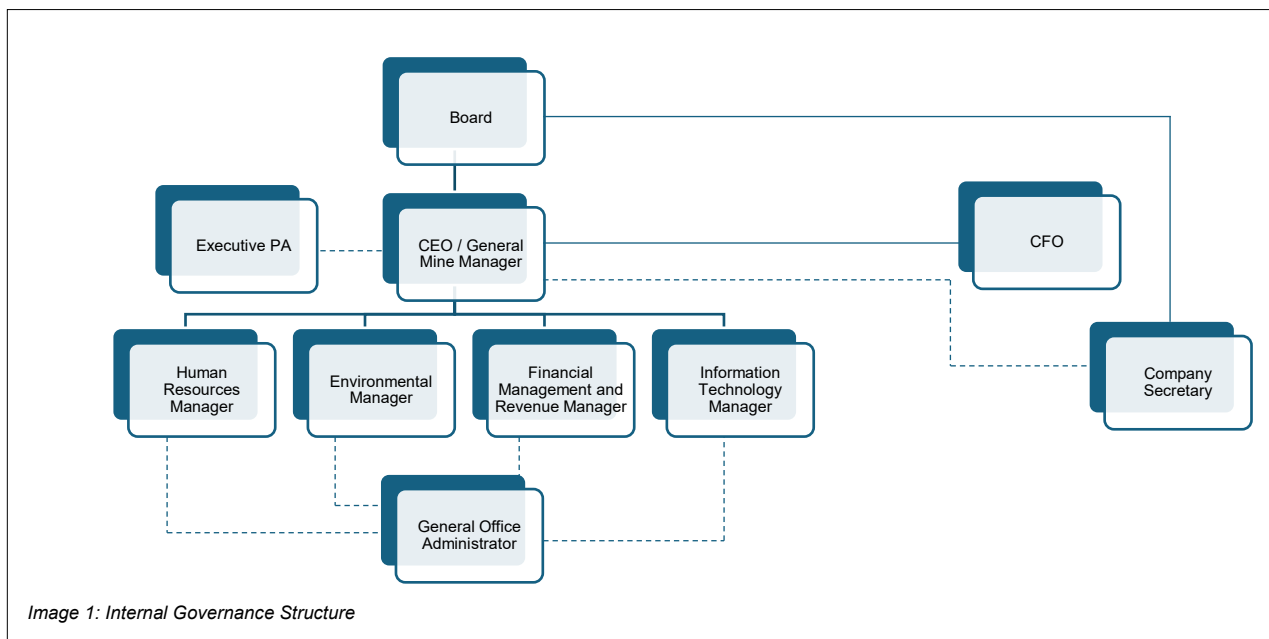

Image 1: Internal Governance Structure

As a result of its 51% shareholding in PSJV, the Company forms part of a complex institutional arrangement, which is governed by two documents, being the Unanimous Resolution and Deed of Settlement.

3.3. Access to Services

Alexkor is primarily involved in diamond mining and related services, and offers the following key operations and services:

- 3.3.1. Diamond mining: Alexkor is known for both onshore alluvial and offshore marine diamond mining in the Northern Cape, along the northwest coast of South Africa. It operates in partnership with the Richtersveld Mining Company in the PSJV, which allows local communities to economically participate in mining operations.
- 3.3.2. Diamond sales and marketing: Alexkor is involved in sorting, valuing and marketing the diamonds recovered through its contractor-based mining operations.
- 3.3.3. Community development: As part of the land restitution settlement with the Richtersveld community, Alexkor is involved in various socio-economic development initiatives, such as housing, infrastructure projects, education, training and skills development and job creation.
- 3.3.4. Environmental rehabilitation: Alexkor is also responsible for the rehabilitation of previously-mined areas, a key requirement under South African mining and environmental laws.
- 3.3.5. Members of the public can access Alexkor’s services by contacting the Company using the contact details at paragraph 4 below.

3.4. Participation

Persons may participate in or influence the formulation of policy or the exercise of powers or performance of duties by the Company in the following manners:

- 3.4.1. by consultation;
- 3.4.2. making representations;
- 3.4.3. discussions and/ or workshops with government departments;

14. POPIA

14.1. Application and Scope

This Policy applies to Alexkor, a listed Schedule 2 public entity in terms of the PFMA, and governs the collection, processing, storage and protection of personal information in compliance with the POPIA.

This Policy applies to all the Company's operations and activities in South Africa and to the extent legally required in other jurisdictions, as well as to all employees, contractors and representatives of Alexkor who handle personal information in the course of their duties, to third-party service providers who process personal information on behalf of Alexkor and to any individual or entity whose personal information is collected, stored or processed by Alexkor, including but not limited to customers, suppliers, stakeholders and the general public.

The Company processes Personal Information of the individuals and corporate entities with whom it works in order to operate and carry out its operations and activities.

The Company regards the lawful and proper processing of Personal Information as crucial to successful service delivery and essential to maintaining confidence between the Company and those Persons who deal with it.

14.2. Lawful Processing of Personal Information

14.2.1. Accountability: a responsible party is responsible for implementing and complying with conditions for lawful processing of Personal Information.

14.2.2. Processing limitation: a responsible party must have good reason for processing information.

14.2.3. Purpose specification: Personal Information must be processed for the purpose for which it was collected. A responsible party must ensure that the Data Subject is aware of the purpose of the collection of Personal Information.

14.2.4. Further processing limitation: A responsible party must ensure that if the Personal Information is further processed, the further processing must be compatible with the original purpose for which it was initially collected.

14.2.5. Information quality: A responsible party must ensure the Personal Information it processes is correct and complete.

14.2.6. Openness: A responsible party must process Personal Information in a way that allows the Data Subject to know what is happening to their Personal Information.

14.2.7. Security safeguards: A responsible party must provide proper and reasonable security measures for the protection of Personal Information.

14.2.8. Data subject participation: A responsible party must communicate with the Data Subject about processing and must allow the Data Subject to correct or update their information.

14.3. Purpose of Processing Personal Information

As specified in clause 14.2.3 above, Personal Information must only be processed for the purpose for which it was collected, and the Data Subject must be aware of such purpose.

Alexkor, as a responsible party, processes Personal Information for purposes related to the functions or activities of Alexkor, including the following:

- 14.3.1. employee management and human resources purposes, including recruitment and hiring, payroll, benefits such as medical aid and pensions, health and safety compliance and training;
- 14.3.2. health, safety and environmental compliance purposes, including occupational health monitoring, incident reporting, access control and security and emergency response;
- 14.3.3. regulatory and legal compliance purposes, including labour law compliance, tax and financial regulations and mining and environmental regulations;
- 14.3.4. supplier and contractor management purposes, including vendor registration, bid evaluations and security vetting;
- 14.3.5. community and stakeholder engagement purposes, including corporate social responsibility programs and public consultations;
- 14.3.6. sales and marketing purposes, including customer relations, marketing and communications.

14.4. Categories and Rights of Data Subjects

- 14.4.1. The Company generally processes personal information relating, but not limited to, the categories of Data Subjects set out in Annexure “D” hereto.
- 14.4.2. The Company may process the Personal Information of the following categories of Data Subjects, which include current, past and prospective Data Subjects, including but not limited to employees, job applicants, directors and management, suppliers, service providers and contractors, individuals captured by CCTV, access control registers, visitors to any premises of the Company and purchasers.
- 14.4.3. Recipients of Personal Information may include, but are not limited to, regulatory bodies, statutory bodies and other organs of state, law enforcement agencies, judicial commissions of inquiry, employees of the Company, family and representatives of the person whose Personal Information the Company is processing, suppliers and services providers to whom the Company has a written contractual relationship with requiring them to have access to Personal Information, third-party verification agencies, collections agencies, banks and other financial institutions, anyone making a successful application for access in terms of the PAIA, research and academic institutions, employment and recruitment agencies, medical aid schemes, insurance service providers, trade unions and psychometric assessment report.
- 14.4.4. The Company shall ensure that it makes Data Subjects aware of their rights, as appropriate and specifically with regards to the following:
 - 14.4.4.1. The right to access Personal Information: Data Subjects have the right to establish whether the Company holds Personal Information related to them, including the right to request access to that Personal Information.
 - 14.4.4.2. The right to have Personal Information corrected or deleted: Data Subjects also have the right to ask the Company to update, correct or delete their Personal Information on reasonable grounds.
 - 14.4.4.3. The right to object to the processing of Personal Information: Data Subjects have the right on reasonable grounds to object to the processing of their Personal Information. The Company will consider such requests and the requirements of POPIA and may cease to process such Personal Information and may, subject to statutory and contractual record-keeping requirements, also destroy the Personal Information.
 - 14.4.4.4. The right to object to direct marketing: Data Subjects have the right to object to their Personal Information being used for the purposes of direct marketing by means of unsolicited electronic and non-electronic communications.

- 14.4.4.5. The right to complain to the Information Regulator: Data Subjects have the right to submit a complaint to the Information Regulator regarding infringements of any of their rights protected under the POPIA and to institute civil proceedings against alleged non-compliance with the protection of their Personal Information.
- 14.4.4.6. The right to be informed: Data Subjects have the right to be informed that their Personal Information is being collected by the Company and should also be notified in any situation where the Company reasonably believed that the Personal Information of Data Subjects has been accessed by unauthorised person/s.

14.5. General Description of Information Security Measures

The Company deploys up-to-date technology to safeguard confidentiality and ensure integrity of Personal Information under its control. The Company's information security measures include:

- 14.5.1. Firewalls;
- 14.5.2. Encryptions;
- 14.5.3. Logical access control;
- 14.5.4. Physical access control;
- 14.5.5. Secure hardware and software; and
- 14.5.6. Confidentiality and data privacy clauses in agreements concluded with suppliers and service providers.

14.6. Transborder Flows of Personal Information

The Company adheres to section 72 of the POPIA, which provides that Personal Information may only be transferred out of the Republic of South Africa if:

- 14.6.1. the recipient country must be subject to a law similar to the POPIA with regards to the protection of Personal Information; or
- 14.6.2. the Data Subject consents to the transfer of their Personal Information; or
- 14.6.3. transfer is necessary for the performance of a contractual obligation between the Data Subject and the Responsible Party;
- 14.6.4. transfer is necessary for the performance of a contractual obligation between the Responsible Party and a third party in the interests of the Data Subject; or
- 14.6.5. the transfer is for the benefit of the Data Subject, but it is impractical to obtain consent from the Data Subject.

14.7. Objection to the Processing of POPIA by a Data Subject

Section 11(3) of the POPIA provides that a Data Subject may, at any time, object to the processing of his, her or its Personal Information, subject to the provisions of section 38(1), which states that Personal Information that is processed for the purpose of discharging a relevant function, is exempt from section 11(3) and (4).
