1. BACKGROUND

The Department of Public Service and Administration (DPSA) draws its legislative mandate from section 197, read with section 195(1) of the Constitution, the Public Service Act of 1994, and the Public Administration Management Act of 2014. The functions of the Minister of Public Service and Administration, as enshrined in the Public Service Act, 1994, include the responsibility to develop the norms and standards for governance and management of electronic government in the public service.

The Directive on Public Service Information Security requires departments to establish and maintain an effective information security capability through the appointment of Departmental Information Security Officers (DISOs). The DISO plays a critical role in protecting government information assets, providing assurance in the effectiveness of information security controls, managing cyber risks, promoting information security awareness, and ensuring compliance with applicable legislation, policies, and standards. The term DISO refers to the role equivalent to that of a Chief Information Security Officer (CISO) in the private sector.

To support departments in implementing the Directive on Public Service Information Security, the DPSA intends to develop (customize) a comprehensive DISO Training Programme that will equip current and prospective DISOs with the knowledge, skills and competencies required to effectively execute their responsibilities.

2. PURPOSE OF THE REQUEST FOR PROPOSAL

The purpose of this Request for Proposal (RFP) is to source a service provider to develop (customize) and deliver a comprehensive DISO training programme.

The programme must provide a structured learning pathway that enables Departmental Information Security Officers to establish, implement, monitor, and continuously improve departmental information security programmes aligned with government requirements, cybersecurity best practices, and international standards.

The programme must include learning modules, case studies, practical exercises, reflection activities, assessments and quizzes.

3. OBJECTIVES OF THE TRAINING PROGRAMME

The objectives of the training program are to equip the DISOs in the public service to effectively execute their assigned duties as follows:

- i. Establishing Governance and Strategic Alignment: The DISO acts as a strategic advisor who establishes and matures the department's information security governance framework, ensuring that security initiatives align with corporate governance, business strategies, and national directives.
- ii. Information Risk Management: Operating as an independent risk advisor, the DISO establishes structured risk management processes, oversees ongoing threat and vulnerability evaluations, and guides the implementation of appropriate control measures to mitigate risks.
- iii. Policy Creation and Enforcement: The DISO is responsible for developing, maintaining, and enforcing comprehensive departmental information security policies and standards, ensuring they reflect changes in threats, technology, and organizational missions.
- iv. Regulatory and Legal Compliance: The role involves ensuring the department complies with all legal, regulatory, and internal policy requirements, tracking these obligations, resolving non-compliance issues, and supporting security-related audits.
- v. Cultivating Security Awareness and Training: To mitigate human-factor risks, the DISO oversees a continuous security awareness, education, and training program designed to help all employees recognize cyberattacks and handle sensitive data correctly.
- vi. Operational and Technical Control Assurance: While day-to-day technical execution is managed by the ICT team, the DISO oversees the effectiveness of these controls, specifically governing privileged access, identity management, and emergency access protocols.
- vii. Third-Party and Supply Chain Oversight: The DISO guides the risk assessment process for outsourced contracts, mitigates supply chain risks, and regularly reviews external party access to ensure ongoing business justification.

- viii. Resource Justification: The DISO develops business cases and determines financial priorities to justify security investments, ensuring that the necessary resources are available and utilised efficiently.

4. SCOPE OF WORK

The appointed provider shall develop (using the below design checklist) specialised learning content for the DISO programme. The programme will be hosted by the National School of Government.

The scope includes training on emerging security trends, best practices, and the technologies essential to information security, including network, application, and cloud security. The course must integrate real-world case studies, hands-on practical exercises, and provide practical insights into information security best practices.

The course must:

- Be aligned to the Public Service Corporate Governance of ICT Policy Framework, Information Security and ICT Service Continuity directives and other relevant directives.
- Be optimised for self-paced learning.
- Be presented in manageable learning units.
- Include public sector case studies.
- Include practical exercises and assessments.
- Promote application of concepts in departmental environments.

The content must include:

- Video presentations.
- Learner guides and handbooks.
- Interactive assessments and quizzes.
- Practical exercises.
- Case studies and scenarios.

5. DESIGN CHECKLIST

Adult Learning Principles

- Tell learners why they need to learn the new knowledge, skills and values

- Allow for flexibility
- Ground content and activities in experience
- Give learners the opportunity to absorb and apply learning (as opposed to memorising content)

Online Learning Materials

- Write at a level of detail that will make content accessible for learners
- Structure content into units
- Provide an overview of each unit
- Group content for each unit into manageable portions
- Place similar content together and exclude unrelated information from each content section
- Use relevant tools to organise information (e.g. diagrams and graphics)
- Reference all materials where appropriate
- Be consistent

Media

- Align media with the NSG look and feel (provided)
- Use NSG colours consistently
- Keep the target audience and context of implementation in mind
- Keep it simple (NSG courses may be delivered in low-bandwidth areas)

Formative Assessment Activities

- Provide a clear assessment brief for all activities
- Provide knowledge checks per unit
 - Present as an online quiz
 - Base questions on course content
 - Question types: Multiple choice – single answer, Multiple choice – multiple answers, Match columns A and B, Fill in the blank (select missing words), Drag and drop onto text, Drag and drop onto image, True/False.
 - Develop computer-graded questions to ensure learners know and understand key content related to the course outcomes

- Quizzes typically consist of 10 – 20 questions, depending on the complexity of the module.
 - Provide general feedback for each question to support learning
- Provide application checks per unit (if applicable)
 - Present as an online quiz or hand-in activity
 - Base questions/activities on real-life scenarios
 - Develop activities to ensure that learners will be able to apply new knowledge and skills to solve real-life challenges, related to the course outcomes, in the workplace
 - One activity per unit is typically required
 - Learners should be able to complete hand-in activities in approximately an hour
 - Provide a suggested answer for all hand-in activities
- Provide learners with the opportunity to reflect on key learning points, where relevant
 - Provide guidance on the key learning points that should be included in the reflection (this is distributed after the activity has been completed)
- Each unit should have at least one quiz. These quizzes are computer-marked, and students get their results immediately. They must achieve a minimum score of 75% on a quiz, but they have unlimited attempts to complete it.
- The NSG eLearning Platform (LMS) is based on Moodle 4.5. All course activities and resources will be delivered on this platform.
- The NSG has standardised on Articulate 360 for the development of interactive learning materials; however, service providers may use any available development tool that is fully compatible with deployment on the Moodle e-learning platform to develop the learning materials. This will allow the DPSA to edit learning objects once the service provider hands over the source files.
- The service provider must develop the training program in a format that will allow the DPSA to modify, maintain, and republish the training without requiring redevelopment.
- Video should be uploaded in MP4 format. Audio should be uploaded in MP3 format.

6. TARGET AUDIENCE AND DELIVERY MODE

The programme is intended for Departmental Information Security Officers (DISOs) and must be delivered as an online, self-paced learning programme, supported by practical exercises and assessments. The appointed service provider will not be required to host the training course as such will be hosted by NSG.

7. DELIVERABLES / PRODUCTS

7.1. Learning Materials

Learning materials that meet the specified requirements and enable the achievement of identified learning objectives. The types of materials must include:

- Learning materials to explain key concepts in line with the course outline and the identified modules.
- The development of fictional case studies for each level of participation, which are used throughout the course to contextualise key concepts and assess their application.
- An example of a successful public service project/case to anchor each module.
- Objective tests (e.g., flashcards, crossword puzzles, and quizzes) to evaluate learner engagement and understanding of the materials and
- Questions (based on the above-mentioned selected case studies) to assess learners' analytical and application skills.

7.2. Quality Assurance

The provider will hold formal meetings with the project team, provide evidence of project progress, ensure the relevance and quality of all learning materials, and implement all project team inputs, recommendations, and decisions within the scope of the project.

8. TRAINING PROGRAMME MODULES

The DISO training programme is intentionally non-technical in its core delivery, designed specifically to align with the strategic and governance mandate of the DISO role. The DISO primarily functions as a governance authority, serving as an independent assurer, risk advisor, and strategic advisor, while the day-to-day technical execution of security controls remains the responsibility of the ICT team. Consequently, the required curriculum must equip candidates for high-level oversight, risk management, policy compliance, and resource justification rather than technical administration. The successful service provider must develop content that empowers DISOs to function effectively as strategic advisors to departmental leadership, enabling them to seamlessly integrate information security into the department's broader business strategy and corporate governance.

The learning journey map for the Departmental Information Security Officer (DISO) Training Programme shall be structured as follows:

8.1. MODULE 1: INTRODUCTION TO INFORMATION SECURITY IN GOVERNMENT

Upon completion of this module, participants should have a sound understanding of the fundamental principles of information security, including confidentiality, integrity and availability, and the role of governance and risk management within the South African Public Service. Participants should understand the evolving threat landscape, the importance of protecting government information assets, and the strategic role of the Departmental Information Security Officer (DISO) in supporting secure service delivery and organisational resilience.

8.2. MODULE 2: PUBLIC SERVICE INFORMATION SECURITY LEGISLATIVE AND POLICY FRAMEWORK

Participants will develop a comprehensive understanding of the legislative, regulatory and policy framework governing information security within the South African Public Service. The module will enable participants to interpret applicable legal and policy requirements, understand departmental compliance obligations, and appreciate the organisational, legal, and governance implications of non-compliance.

8.3. MODULE 3: DIRECTIVE ON PUBLIC SERVICE INFORMATION SECURITY

Participants will gain a comprehensive understanding of the Directive on Public Service Information Security, including its objectives, governance requirements and implementation expectations. The module will equip participants with the knowledge and practical skills required to implement, coordinate and monitor compliance with the Directive within their respective departments while promoting consistent and effective information security management practices.

8.4. MODULE 4: MINIMUM INFORMATION SECURITY STANDARDS (MISS) AND GOVERNMENT SECURITY PRESCRIPTS

Participants will understand the purpose, structure and application of the Minimum Information Security Standards (MISS) and other government security prescripts relevant to departmental information security programmes. The module will enable participants to align departmental security initiatives with government requirements, integrate prescribed controls into governance processes, and support consistent implementation of national security standards across the Public Service.

8.5. MODULE 5: INFORMATION SECURITY GOVERNANCE

Upon completion of this module, participants will understand the principles of information security governance and how governance supports organisational objectives, accountability and risk management. The module will equip participants to establish, implement and continuously improve governance structures, policies, roles and oversight mechanisms that enable effective management of departmental information security programmes.

8.6. MODULE 6: DIRECTIVE ON THE PUBLIC CORPORATE GOVERNANCE OF ICT

Participants will understand how information security integrates with the Directive on the Public Corporate Governance of ICT and contributes to effective ICT governance within government institutions. The module will enable participants to align information security initiatives with organisational strategy, governance structures and ICT decision-making processes while supporting enterprise-wide accountability and performance.

8.7. MODULE 7: INFORMATION SECURITY RISK MANAGEMENT

Participants will acquire the knowledge and practical skills required to establish, implement and maintain departmental information security risk management processes. The module will enable participants to identify, assess, evaluate, treat and monitor information security risks using a risk-based approach that supports informed decision-making, regulatory compliance and organisational resilience.

8.8. MODULE 8: SECURITY ARCHITECTURE, TECHNOLOGY AND CONTROLS

Participants will develop an executive-level understanding of security architecture, technology and information security controls required to protect departmental information assets. Rather than focusing on technical administration, the module will prepare DISOs to provide governance oversight, evaluate the effectiveness of security controls, support secure technology decisions, and ensure that technical safeguards align with organisational risk management and government security requirements.

8.9. MODULE 9: INFORMATION SECURITY INCIDENT MANAGEMENT AND CYBER RESILIENCE

Participants will understand the principles of incident management, cyber resilience and organisational preparedness. The module will equip participants to coordinate departmental responses to information security incidents, support investigation and recovery activities, facilitate stakeholder communication, and contribute to continuous improvement through lessons learned and resilience planning.

8.10. MODULE 10: SECURITY AWARENESS, CULTURE AND HUMAN FACTORS

Participants will understand the critical role of people in maintaining information security and the importance of fostering a security-conscious organisational culture. The module will equip participants to design, implement and evaluate departmental security awareness and education programmes that promote responsible user behaviour, reduce human-related security risks and strengthen organisational resilience.

8.11. MODULE 11: SECURITY MONITORING, METRICS AND REPORTING

Participants will develop the capability to monitor, measure and report on departmental information security performance using meaningful metrics and key performance indicators. The module will enable participants to evaluate the effectiveness of security controls, communicate risk and performance information to management, and support evidence-based decision-making and continual improvement of information security programmes.

8.12. MODULE 12: BUSINESS CONTINUITY, DISASTER RECOVERY AND RESILIENCE

Participants will understand the relationship between information security, business continuity and organisational resilience. The module will equip participants to contribute to the development, implementation and continual improvement of business continuity and disaster recovery capabilities that enable departments to maintain critical services and recover effectively from disruptive events.

8.13. MODULE 13: STRATEGIC LEADERSHIP AND STAKEHOLDER MANAGEMENT FOR DISOs

Upon completion of this module, participants will be prepared to perform the strategic leadership responsibilities of a Departmental Information Security Officer. The module will strengthen participants' ability to provide executive advice, influence organisational decision-making, communicate information security risks effectively, manage stakeholder relationships, promote a culture of governance and accountability, and align departmental information security programmes with organisational objectives and government priorities.

Total Functionality Score			100

- 13.4. All bidders who score less than 70 out of 100 points for functionality will not be considered further.
- 13.5. Shortlisted Bidders may be invited to do a presentation on their proposals at their own cost.
- 13.6. Bidders doing the presentation will be evaluated by a representative panel according to the evaluation criteria indicated in the specifications.
- 13.7. Only service providers that score points which exceed the minimum threshold provided on functionality will be evaluated further. The Preference point system will therefore be based on Price and the consolidated points scored for the four respective goals. Responsive bids will be adjudicated by the Department on the 80/20- preference point system in terms of which points are awarded to bidders based on the formulae below:
- 13.8. The following formula will be used to calculate the points for price in respect of bidders

$$P_s = 80 \left(1 - \frac{P_t - P_{\min}}{P_{\min}} \right)$$

Where

P_s = Points scored for comparative price of Bid under consideration

Pt = Comparative price of Bid under consideration

Pmin = Comparative price of lowest acceptable Bid

- 13.9. Points awarded to a bidder for attaining specific goals for the procurement initiative. A maximum of 20 points may be awarded to a bidder who meets the criteria for the four specific goals from a preference point perspective. For this Bid, the maximum number of points that could be allocated are indicated in the table below:

Specific Goals	Number of points (80/20 system)
