APPOINTMENT OF A SERVICE PROVIDER TO CONDUCT: SITUATIONAL ANALYSIS OF HOMELESSNESS IN KWAZULU-NATAL DEPARTMENT OF SOCIAL DEVELOPMENT

KZN POPULATION UNIT AND DEMOGRAPHIC TRENDS
DEPARTMENT OF SOCIAL DEVELOPMENT
CONTACT: HAZEL MDIMA
CONTACT NUMBER: (033) 264 2281
EMAIL: : hazel.mdima@kzndsd.gov.za

1. BACKGROUND AND CONTEXT

Homelessness in KwaZulu-Natal represents a complex, multidimensional social challenge that intersects with poverty, unemployment, migration, family breakdown, substance abuse, and systemic inequality. Despite its visibility in urban centres and increasing prevalence in peri-urban and rural areas, homelessness remains poorly quantified, inadequately understood, and insufficiently addressed within existing policy and programme frameworks.

Historically, homelessness has been treated primarily as a welfare concern, addressed through short-term relief measures such as shelters and food provision. While these interventions are necessary, they have proven insufficient in addressing the structural and systemic drivers that perpetuate homelessness. As a result, responses have remained fragmented, reactive, and largely unsustainable, with limited integration across sectors such as housing, health, social protection, and economic development.

A critical gap identified in the Department's current strategic environment is the absence of reliable, comprehensive, and up-to-date data on the scale, characteristics, and dynamics of homelessness in the province. Existing administrative data systems do not adequately capture:

- The true magnitude and geographic distribution of homelessness
- The demographic profiles of affected individuals (including age, gender, migration status, and disability)
- The pathways into homelessness, including factors such as job loss, evictions, family disintegration, and rural–urban migration
- The duration and patterns of homelessness (chronic vs temporary)
- The effectiveness and reach of existing services, including shelters, outreach programmes, and reintegration initiatives

This data gap significantly constrains the Department's ability to develop targeted, evidence-based, and cost-effective interventions. It increases the risk of implementing generic strategies that do not respond to the specific realities of affected populations.

Furthermore, the growing pressures of urbanisation, economic exclusion, and social vulnerability are likely to exacerbate homelessness in the absence of a coordinated and informed response. In this context, homelessness must be reconceptualised not only as a social welfare issue but as a developmental challenge requiring integrated, multi-sectoral solutions.

Importantly, within the Department's broader strategic shift toward a developmental and investment-driven model, homelessness presents both a challenge and an opportunity. When addressed through a developmental lens, interventions such as:

- Transitional housing
- Skills development and employment pathways
- Community-based care services
- Psychosocial support and reintegration programmes

It can contribute to human capital development, social inclusion, and participation in the care economy.

The situational analysis is therefore a critical step in repositioning homelessness within the Department's strategic agenda, ensuring that responses are data-driven, coordinated, and aligned to broader provincial development goals.

2. PURPOSE OF THE STUDY

The purpose of this study is to generate a comprehensive, evidence-based understanding of homelessness in KwaZulu-Natal, which will serve as a foundation for the development of an integrated, strategic, and sustainable provincial response.

3. THE SCOPE OF WORK
