FUNCTIONAL SPECIFICATION

1.1 Background

The control of air temperature in the Radio Park complex is achieved by forcing return and fresh air through sets of heat exchanger radiators distributed at various locations in the building. On the other side of the heat exchangers hot water is circulated in one (heating) side and through another radiator cold water (cooling) is circulated at set supply temperatures. The two forced air supplies are then mixed to obtain the correct environmental supply conditions. The hot water is currently provided by the eight installed boilers, installed at various locations with pumps and controls.

The current installed boilers are corroded inside the vessels and the pressure shell thickness has depleted they have therefore been condemned. They can no longer operate under the high pressures and continual corrosion conditions and have therefore been switched off. The control systems on the boilers are also problematic due to the high pressures and the electrode shields that need to be continually adjusted to maintain the correct heating capacity. The circulation water also has to contain an electrode conducting chemical at a precise mixture to optimise the efficiency of the heat energy transfer from the electrodes to the water. This requires a new automatic dosing system. The mechanical spares for the boilers are unavailable and have to be manufactured as and when required.

The eight boilers are set out in four sets of two each distributed in the Radio Park complex as follows:

- (K2 level) Two in central plant,
- (K4) two in radio studios plant room,
- (on the 29th floor) two in D5 plant room and
- (Radio Outside Broadcast) two in K3 plant room.

The electrode boilers have been maintained and repaired for the duration of their lifespan but have now become unreliable and exponentially more expensive to maintain. The electrode boilers use a lot of electricity in the winter and add to both the maximum. The pumps and controls that are part of the boiler system are outdated and unreliable. The electrical supply components are also failing regularly, and the result is that the electrode boilers are mostly out of order. Refer to Annexure D- the detailed specification

CERTIFICATE OF INDEPENDENT BID DETERMINATION

- 1.0 This Standard Bidding Document (SBD) must form part of all bids¹ invited.
- 2.0 Section 4 (1) (b) (iii) of the Competition Act No. 89 of 1998, as amended, prohibits an agreement between, or concerted practice by, firms, or a decision by an association of firms, if it is between parties in a horizontal relationship and if it involves collusive bidding (or bid rigging).² Collusive bidding is a pe se prohibition meaning that it cannot be justified under any grounds.
- 3.0 Treasury Regulation 16A9 prescribes that accounting officers and accounting authorities must take all reasonable steps to prevent abuse of the supply chain management system and authorizes accounting officers and accounting authorities to:
 - a. disregard the bid of any bidder if that bidder, or any of its directors have abused the institution's supply chain management system and or committed fraud or any other improper conduct in relation to such system.
 - b. cancel a contract awarded to a supplier of goods and services if the supplier committed any corrupt or fraudulent act during the bidding process or the execution of that contract.
- 4.0 This SBD serves as a certificate of declaration that would be used by institutions to ensure that, when bids are considered, reasonable steps are taken to prevent any form of bid-rigging.
- 5.0 In order to give effect to the above, the attached Certificate of Bid Determination (SBD 9) must be completed and submitted with the bid:

² Bid rigging (or collusive bidding) occurs when businesses, that would otherwise be expected to compete, secretly conspire to raise prices or lower the quality of goods and / or services for SABCs who wish to acquire goods and / or services through a bidding process. Bid rigging is, therefore, an agreement between competitors not to compete.
