ROBBEN ISLAND MUSEUM INVITES A SERVICE PROVIDER THAT SPECIALISES IN ARCHAEOLOGY AND HERITAGE CONSERVATION TO IMPLEMENT AND MANAGE THE REPAIRING OF THE BLUESTONE QUARRY WALL FOR ROBBEN ISLAND MUSEUM.

1. PURPOSE

Robben Island Museum invites potential bidders who specialise in archaeology and heritage conservation to submit proposals for implementing and managing the repair of the Bluestone Quarry wall in Robben Island.

2. BACKGROUND AND INTRODUCTION

The Blue Stone Quarry Wall (BSQW) was built by political prisoners at Robben Island in the period from 1964 to 1977 to prevent the ingress of seawater into the working area driven by waves at high tide. What is significant about this wall is that the engineering design was left to the means of the prisoners. If the prison authorities had serious intentions to prove the area, they would have put in resources for the construction of a much stronger barrier, including a concrete embankment. The idea was not to afford the prisoners such a luxury. This is the reason why the wall is significant because it was used as a form of punishment, probably the only structure that the prisoners had to build with their own improvised design.

When mining ceased in 1977, the maintenance programme was abandoned, and the wall was left at the mercy of the sea. It is therefore not surprising that for more than four decades the sea action has taken its toll, and over that period freak tides have been experienced, inflicting further damage to the wall.

The Restoration of the Blue Stone Quarry Wall Project will provide a revolutionary and unique value in the Robben Island storyline /narrative that will enhance its global destination status in celebration of the 'Triumph of the human spirit against adversity and injustice'. The aim is to provide an informative and moving visitor experience based on an existing and accessible storyline, which will be a symbolic but non-obtrusive memorialisation of all the people who were incarcerated on the Island.

Robben Island Museum (RIM) appointed a service provider for the planning and implementation of the restoration of the Bluestone Quarry Wall at Robben Island. The project was executed over a period of three years from November 2020 to January 2023.

The Bluestone Quarry Wall (BSQW) experienced a major collapse in three sections on the side facing the sea. The weather triggered high waves, which breached the BSQW, causing further collapse in two sections in the mid and north sections of the wall.

3. SCOPE OF WORKS/DELIVERABLES
