SECTION 7: SCOPE AND SPECIFICATION OF REQUIRED SUPPLY / SERVICES

Scope of Supply / Services

Background and Introduction

Proposals are invited from suitably qualified service providers to implement fire and invasive species control on municipal-owned sites.

The Biodiversity Management Department of the eThekweni Municipality has initiated a programme for control of invasive alien plants on important biodiversity sites. The programme aims to ensure optimal restoration of such biodiversity sites while at the same time delivering green job creation and skills development through employment and training of local people.

It is anticipated that through appropriate control of invasive alien plants, ecological functionality and environmental integrity can be restored to local ecosystems, with the result that the resilience of such ecosystems, as well as the ecosystem services that they deliver, will be improved. Control methods are to include manual, mechanical, and chemical means as well as the use of fire.

The programme is expected and required to undertake follow-up control practices in areas previously cleared, particularly in areas where fire control is being implemented as a management tool.

The Biodiversity Management Department seeks to appoint a suitable implementing agent to undertake this work for 36 months. The successful implementing agent should provide a trained, experienced and institutionally robust service to eThekweni Municipality in order to fulfil the required duty of care towards grassland assets and to continue and expand the work executed in previous management programmes. Individuals, consortiums and non-governmental organisations who are interested in applying to implement the programme are invited to bid for the tender.

This is acknowledged to be a novel and complex programme, given the objectives of

- a) Protecting critically important biodiversity assets within natural environmental areas,
- b) Promoting the sustainable supply of environmental services to the city and its people,
- c) Providing green jobs and skills development opportunities for previously disadvantaged communities.

Specifications

The bidder is requested to respond to the following scope of work, and submit a detailed project proposal, which includes detailed information on human resources to be allocated to the project, project approach, methods and plan, and a fixed price cost estimate to complete the work (NB: costs to include VAT where applicable). - Report sightings of the top listed invasive alien plants as well as emerging weeds, either on the Emerging weeds website (<https://invasives.durban.gov.za/>) or via the iNaturalist app (<https://www.inaturalist.org/>). Emerging weeds data is also to be reported in the monthly report and in the Emerging Weeds database. Where required, the service provider must respond to requests to implement control of these plants.
- Where possible, sightings of invasive alien flora and fauna are to be noted in the monthly report, as well as details of control efforts on these.
- The Municipality may, from time to time, run bioblitz or survey events on the managed open spaces, and the service provider may be asked to send team members to assist in photographing grassland species and uploading these to the iNaturalist app (<https://www.inaturalist.org/>). Any critically endangered species found on managed sites should be listed, with images, in a field form to and submitted to the Biodiversity Management Department.

As such, it is recommended that the appointed service provider confirm which person in the service provider's team is suitably experienced in checking and/or reviewing of monthly reports. Alternately, the service provider will need to sub-contract an additional person with those skills, for three hours each month, to perform this task. 7.3 Best environmental practice (BEP) guidelines

Best environmental practice (BEP) guidelines for work undertaken in natural areas or any other areas with potentially sensitive natural environments.

The clearing of listed Invasive Alien Plants in the eThekweni Municipality is often in sensitive grassland and forest ecosystems which can be susceptible to environmental degradation. The slopes are often steep and the soils prone to erosion. Furthermore, much of the biodiversity (plant and animal life) found in these areas may be considered to be of conservation significance. As such every effort should be made to minimise the impacts on such biodiversity at the time of alien plant control.

The following best practices are to be observed while the contractor is working on site:

- Roads and paths are not to be created across contours and straight down the slopes.
- Every effort should be made to minimise a.) the trampling of indigenous plants; and b.) the disturbance or destruction of indigenous fauna.
- When a species identification is in doubt, it must be confirmed before control is undertaken.
- Vehicles on site are to be roadworthy and should not discharge oil and fuel onto the site.
- Vehicles on site are to travel slowly and with minimal damage/gouging into the soil.
- When working on or near the roads, visible safety beacons are to be displayed.
- No littering or fouling of the site area is permitted by the contractor/workmen.

- No harvesting of fauna or flora considered to be of medicinal value is permitted in any area of the eThekweni Municipality.
- Every effort is to be made to ensure the safety of visitors, and commuters in and around the work site.
- Any alien trees felled without applying herbicide need to be recut horizontally before application of herbicide.
- Trees felled are to be cut as close to their ground base as possible.
- Every effort should be made to leave site in a good state and with minimal disturbance to the natural area.
- Every effort should be made to limit disturbing the peace when working in close proximity to residential areas.
- All fire control best practices to be adhered to.

The above Best Practices will be assessed on a regular basis by a Municipal-appointed Site Auditor. Any transgressions must be immediately addressed and reported, or the appointed service provider may be investigated for potential breach of contract.
