What does audit opinion say about the Bay?

● Damning report flags weak oversight, faltering service delivery, fraud and irregular expenditure

Nomuzima Nkosi
www.theherald.co.za

The Nelson Mandela Bay municipality's governance failures have once again been laid bare, with red-flagged contracts, weak oversight, unlawful spending and staggering losses in basic services driving the city into yet another qualified audit.

Emergency repairs to the Matanzima access bridge in KwaMashu, approved without proper competitive bidding and passed through under questionable deviation grounds, also formed the basis of the qualified opinion.

financial year.

According to the Eastern Cape AG, certain previous findings had not yet been addressed by the city, prompting repeated findings.

The AG flagged deepening control weaknesses, faltering service delivery, and flagrant fraud and irregular expenditure.

In its findings, the AG reported that the metro recorded

R1.48bn in electricity losses during the year under review, up from R1.2bn in the 2023/2024 financial year.

This represents a 26.81% loss of total electricity purchases.
