2. INVITATION FOR BID

Required Services

- 2.1 The ASB requires the services of an expert to execute activities related to the ASB's Reference Group on Financial Instruments (GRAP 104) (Revised 2019) and assist the ASB with other financial instrument related activities.

About the Reference Group

- 2.2 The ASB revised the Standard of GRAP on Financial Instruments (GRAP 104) in 2019 to align it with the applicable requirements of IFRS 9 on Financial Instruments, IFRS 7 on Financial Instruments: Disclosures and IAS 32 on Financial Instruments: Presentation at the time.

2.3 The ASB decided in 2020 to constitute a GRAP “Reference Group” on Financial Instruments. The Reference Group commenced its work in 2021. The purpose of the Reference Group is to bring together technical experts, auditors, preparers and other interested parties to discuss how GRAP 104 should be applied to specific transactions/events. The Reference Group:

- (a) Discusses the implementation and application of GRAP 104 to public sector specific topics identified by stakeholders.
- (b) Identifies potential solutions to resolve the identified issues, which could include publishing FAQs, Fact Sheets, communication material, or liaising with the Office of the Accountant-General about the need for specific guidance, tools, etc.
- (c) Communicates the work of the Reference Group and share any resources developed with stakeholders. This is done by making the work of the Reference Group accessible to all stakeholders on the ASB website, along with other guidance prepared by the Secretariat of the ASB.

2.4 It is not anticipated that the work of the Reference Group will result in changes to GRAP 104.

2.5 The draft Terms of Reference of the GRAP 104 Reference Group are provided as Annexure A. It is subject to approval by the Reference Group at the June 2026 meeting.

3. Activities of the Reference Group

3.1 The Reference Group meets on a quarterly basis. At each meeting, it agrees on the work programme for the following quarter.

3.2 The work of the Reference Group in the initial period (2021 to 2026) included (i) educating members on the requirements of the Standard and explaining the technical, application and implementation issues for members to assess potential implications in their environments, (ii) presentations and discussions by members on their findings and issues after analysing the potential implications in their environments and agreeing ways in which to solve issues, and (iii) taking the agreed actions.

3.3 In the next phase (2026/27 – 2027/28), which pertains to this Invitation to Bid, the Reference Group will focus on identifying issues that arise during the implementation and first years of applying the Standard. While there may be a need in certain areas to repeat educational activities [see paragraph 3.2 part (i)], the focus will be on the following:

- Members of the group presenting and discussing their issues and experiences in implementing and applying the Standard in their environments. The topics will depend on the Reference Group’s needs.
- Members of the group considering and discussing the impact of any new or amended international equivalent requirements [being IFRS 9 and related IFRS Accounting Standards, the International Public Sector Accounting Standard on Financial Instruments (IPSAS 41) and related IPSAS and the IFRS® Interpretations Committee’s agenda decisions on financial instruments] and changes in the local environment such as legislative or other reforms impacting financial instruments.
- Possible solutions will be discussed and agreed by the Reference Group. These issues should be within the scope of the ASB’s mandate. The resolutions could include, for example, the development or amendment of FAQs, Fact Sheets, communication material, or liaising with the Office of the Accountant-General regarding the need for guidance, tools or similar supporting material.

4. Scope of work

4.1 The ASB requires an expert in financial instruments to execute the following activities, including:

- (a) Develop detailed presentations on topics identified in the work programme. At each quarterly meeting, the Reference Group determines the work programme for the following meeting. When presentations are identified, they should cover both the theoretical principles in GRAP 104, as well as implementation aspects. The implementation aspects could be addressed in several ways, including:

- practical examples (that could illustrate calculations, debits and credits);
- actual implementation and application issues experienced;
- highlight emerging practice from the application of IFRS 9 and related IFRS Accounting Standards and IPSAS 41 and related IPSAS;
- assess the appropriateness and applicability of the IFRS Interpretations Committee's agenda decisions on financial instruments for the local environment; and
- matters emerging in the local environment such as legislative or other reforms impacting financial instruments.

These presentations will be made available on the ASB's website as part of a broader "package" of materials to support the implementation of GRAP 104 (see paragraph 2.3(c)).

- (b) At each meeting, facilitate technical discussions among members of the Reference Group on topics identified in the work programme and topics raised by members in the meeting.
- (c) Develop, review and/or revise the identified solutions, such as FAQ, Fact Sheets, communication material, etc. Any developments or amendments is the responsibility of the expert and will be reviewed by the Secretariat of the ASB, and agreed by the Reference Group.
- (d) Provide ad-hoc advice on questions that may be directed to the ASB and participate in ASB events on the application of GRAP 104.

4.2 Any outputs developed for the ASB will be the ASB's material and bear its copyright.

4.3 The administration of the meetings, such as convening meetings, drafting agendas and minutes will be done by the ASB.

- (c) Chartered Accountant or equivalent professional designation.

The duration is anticipated to be two years.

6. Duration of service

6.1 The contract will commence on the completion of a signed contract in early 2026. The term of the service is two-years, until a date to be agreed in the ASB's financial reporting period 2027/2028.
