INTRODUCTION

INTRODUCTION TO THE NRF

The National Research Foundation Act as amended, Act 19 of 2018, establishes the National Research Foundation (“NRF”) as the juristic legal entity that will contract with the awarded bidder. The NRF is the government’s national agency responsible for promoting and supporting research and human capital development through funding of higher education, funding of research, advancing science within the public and scholar environments through science outreach programs, providing shared research platforms in which to conduct research in all fields of science and technology, including natural science, engineering, social science, and humanities.

Please visit the NRF website (<https://www.nrf.ac.za>) for more information.

BACKGROUND TO SAAO

The South African Astronomical Observatory (SAAO) is a facility of the National Research Foundation. It is the national centre for optical and infrared astronomy in South Africa. Its prime function is to conduct fundamental research in astronomy and astrophysics by providing a world-class facility and by promoting astronomy and astrophysics in Southern Africa. The SAAO is comprised of headquarters in the suburb of Observatory in Cape Town, and a dedicated research and observation station with several working telescopes (including SALT) outside the Karoo town of Sutherland in the Northern Cape.

Further information about SAAO can be found on www.saa.ac.za.

THE NEED FOR THIS PROCUREMENT WITHIN SAAO

The South African Astronomical Observatory (SAAO) requires aluminium materials on an ad hoc basis to meet the evolving needs of its high-precision machining and fabrication operations. These materials are vital for manufacturing custom components used in telescopes, scientific instruments, and other critical infrastructure. As the demands of the Observatory’s projects fluctuate, the supply of aluminium must be flexible, ensuring materials are delivered as needed to avoid delays in ongoing work. The materials are used in the production of complex, specialized parts such as optical mounts, telescope housings, and structural components, which must meet strict quality standards. These components often need specific aluminium alloys that offer the right balance of strength, corrosion resistance, and machinability. Suppliers are expected to provide a range of aluminium grades, capable of withstanding harsh conditions such as extreme temperatures and humidity, while maintaining high performance and durability.

Due to the dynamic nature of the SAAO’s projects, suppliers must be capable of quick response times and adaptable delivery schedules to ensure that materials are available when required. The ability to provide consistent and reliable delivery is essential for supporting the SAAO’s mission to advance astronomical research and technology through cutting-edge engineering and innovation.

THE OBJECTIVE OF THIS BID

The objective of this bid is to appoint a supplier for the supply and delivery of aluminium materials to the South African Astronomical Observatory (SAAO) in Cape Town. The supplier will provide a range of aluminium grades and specifications needed for high-precision machining of components for telescopes and scientific instruments. Materials must meet strict quality standards, ensuring durability under extreme conditions. The supplier must offer flexible, on-demand delivery, with competitive pricing and a proven track record of reliability. The partnership aims to support the SAAO’s ongoing research and technological advancements in astronomy.

The NRF does not provide the origin of the request to any party.

Response preparation costs (GCC3)

The NRF is not liable for any costs incurred by a bidder in the process of responding to this invitation, including on-site presentations.

Counter proposals

No counter proposals are accepted.

The NRF, in the interests of transparent procurement, utilises the “two-envelope” system to minimise any form of price bias in the technical selection phase, whereby the SBD3 price schedule and detailed supporting pricing documentation is separated from the rest of the bid submission.

For electronic submissions, bidders are required to save their submissions in, at minimum, the following separate files or zipped folders, clearly named:

- [Bidder Name] – Part 1A – Bid forms and compliance response
- [Bidder Name] – Part 1B – Technical response
- [Bidder Name] – Part 2 – Price Schedule

Supporting Documentation

Third parties include their Master Registration Number (Supplier Number) for evaluation purposes. Collusion, fraud and corruption

Any effort by the bidder to influence evaluation, comparisons, or award decisions in any manner will result in the rejection and disqualification of the bidder concerned.

Fronting

The NRF supports the Government's broad based black economic empowerment recognising that real empowerment is through individuals and businesses conducting themselves in accordance with the Constitution and in an honest, fair, equitable, transparent, and legally compliant manner. Against this background, the NRF condemns any form of fronting. The NRF's evaluation committees conduct or initiate the enquiries/investigations to determine the accuracy of the third parties representations. The third parties have the onus of proving that fronting does not exist. Where the NRF identifies a potential breach may exist, the NRF notifies the third parties of the allegation. The third parties have a period of 7 days from date of notification to provide evidence that such potential breach does not exist. The NRF, upon confirmation of fronting, will invalidate the contract, apply for the third parties to be restricted from conducting business with the public sector for a period not exceeding 10 years, and exercise any other remedies the NRF may have against the concerned third party.

Disclaimers

The NRF has produced this document in good faith. The NRF, its agents, and its employees and associates do not warrant its accuracy or completeness; make no representation, warranty, assurance, guarantee or endorsements to any third parties concerning the document.
