CERTIFICATE OF INDEPENDENT BID DETERMINATION

- 1 This Standard Bidding Document (SBD) must form part of all bids¹ invited.
- 2 Section 4 (1) (b) (iii) of the Competition Act No. 89 of 1998, as amended, prohibits an agreement between, or concerted practice by, firms, or a decision by an association of firms, if it is between parties in a horizontal relationship and if it involves collusive bidding (or bid rigging).² Collusive bidding is a pe se prohibition meaning that it cannot be justified under any grounds.
- 3 Treasury Regulation 16A9 prescribes that accounting officers and accounting authorities must take all reasonable steps to prevent abuse of the supply chain management system and authorizes accounting officers and accounting authorities to:
 - a. disregard the bid of any bidder if that bidder, or any of its directors have abused the institution's supply chain management system and or committed fraud or any other improper conduct in relation to such system.
 - b. cancel a contract awarded to a supplier of goods and services if the supplier committed any corrupt or fraudulent act during the bidding process or the execution of that contract.
- 4 This SBD serves as a certificate of declaration that would be used by institutions to ensure that, when bids are considered, reasonable steps are taken to prevent any form of bid-rigging.
- 5 In order to give effect to the above, the attached Certificate of Bid Determination (SBD 9) must be completed and submitted with the bid:

² Bid rigging (or collusive bidding) occurs when businesses, that would otherwise be expected to compete, secretly conspire to raise prices or lower the quality of goods and / or services for purchasers who wish to acquire goods and / or services through a bidding process. Bid rigging is, therefore, an agreement between competitors not to compete.

1. PURPOSE

- 1.1. The Marine Living Resources Fund, a Schedule 3A Public Entity in terms of the Public Finance Management Act, 1999 (Act No 1 of 1999) (hereafter referred to as the MLRF), under the auspices of the Department of Forestry, Fisheries and the Environment ("Department"/ "DFFE") and the Minister of Forestry, Fisheries and the Environment ("Minister") in the exercise of their mandate and functions under the provisions of the Marine Living Resources Act, 18 of 1998 ("MLRA") require the services of a suitable service provider/s to provide a fishing vessel/s to conduct one or more of the following surveys:
- A. the pelagic recruit survey between May and July 2022
 - B. the south coast demersal trawl survey between April and May 2022.

2. INTRODUCTION AND BACKGROUND

- 2.1. The Departmental research vessel Africana is scheduled to undergo replacement of two of her generators (which form part of the diesel-electric propulsion system) during 2021/2022. There is some uncertainty regarding the time period that will be required to conduct the refit, and permission was consequently obtained to charter an alternative vessel/s to conduct the 2021 hydro-acoustic pelagic biomass survey (between October and December 2021), the 2022 hydro-acoustic pelagic recruitment survey (between May and July), the 2022 west coast demersal trawl survey (between January and February), and the 2022 south coast demersal trawl survey (between April and May) in the event that the Africana is not available for this purpose.
- 2.2. Annual surveys of South Africa's small pelagic fish resources are essential to the setting of Total Allowable Catches (TACs) in the small pelagic fisheries sector. The 2021 hydro-acoustic pelagic biomass survey estimate is the most important input for setting the sardine TAC, initial anchovy TAC and sardine by-catch (TAB) allowances for 2022 and the 2022 pelagic recruit survey is required to finalise the anchovy TAC and sardine TAB for 2022. To enable the Branch: Fisheries Management to conduct surveys of this magnitude, specialized participation is needed. This includes a vessel that can operate in both nearshore and offshore areas between the Orange River and Port Alfred.
- 2.3. The hydro-acoustic pelagic recruit survey must be conducted over a 43 day period between mid May and early July 2022 over the inshore area of the continental shelf from close inshore (20m depth) to a distance of 40 to 60 nm offshore from the Orange River to Port Alfred. Similar sampling protocols as for the hydro-acoustic pelagic biomass survey are used.
- 2.4. The vessel/s to be used for pelagic surveys must be equipped with a hull-mounted ES38-B Simrad split beam transducer within the foremost 1/3 of the hull and the vessel should be fitted with a fixed-pitch propeller. The vessel/s must have a length of >50m, a fully-bunkered draft of not more than 6m and be capable of midwater trawling with the FRS Africana trawl gear at a speed of at least 3.5 knots in windspeeds of up to 30 knots. The vessel/s should also have a functioning trawl monitoring system for observations at fishing depths between 10m and 200m and be able to maintain a constant survey speed of 10 knots. The vessel/s must be manned by a competent Master/skipper and crew with extensive knowledge and experience in midwater trawling and have work space and accommodation for 14 scientists, with separate ablutions for men and women. The vessel/s must be able to carry sufficient fuel, food/supplies and fresh water to stay at sea for at least 14 consecutive days and have blast freezers and freezer rooms for storage of scientific samples.

- 2.5. The demersal surveys conducted annually by the Department on the West and South Coasts in summer and autumn respectively are a crucial source of data for the assessment and management of South Africa's demersal fish resources.
- 2.6. Typically, the demersal surveys are conducted over a period of 35 to 40 days (depending on the weather), during which 120 stations are sampled using demersal trawl gear. The station positions are selected using a pseudo-random stratified approach that divides the survey area into depth- and latitude/longitude-based sub-strata and then randomly selects stations within each sub-stratum, the numbers of which are proportional to the area of the sub-stratum. The South Coast surveys sample the area between Cape Agulhas and Port Alfred (Annexure 1). The vessel/s must be manned by a competent Master/skipper and crew with extensive knowledge and experience in demersal (bottom) trawling and have work space and accommodation for at least 14 scientists. The vessel/s must be able to carry sufficient fuel, food/supplies and fresh water to stay at sea for at least 21 consecutive days and have blast freezers and freezer rooms for storage of scientific samples.
- 2.7. A conductivity/temperature/depth probe (CTD) equipped with oxygen, light and fluorescence sensors is mounted on the headline of the demersal trawl gear and collects important hydrographic data during each trawl. Net sensors mounted on the gear are used to check that the gear configuration is optimal, that the gear is on the seabed during sampling operations and to provide measurements of the gear configuration that are used in calculations of the area swept by the gear during the trawl to enable calculations of fish density at each station.
- 2.8. All fish caught during the demersal trawls are identified to species level (where possible), and in the case of hake, chondrichthyans and cephalopods are also separated by gender. The species/gender samples are then weighed and sub-samples measured to provide length frequency data. Biological analyses (individual length and weight, gender, maturity stage, gonad and liver weights, stomach contents analysis and otolith sampling) are conducted on sub-samples of commercially important species.
- 2.9. Due to the time-sensitive nature of the research surveys and the need for comparability across years, these surveys cannot be conducted at another time during the year.
- 2.10. Department officials (scientists and technicians), lead and supervised by a Scientist in Charge will be on board the vessel/s at all times to ensure that the survey objectives are met.

3. OBJECTIVE

- 3.1. The objective of this Terms of Reference is to appoint a suitable independent service provider/s that meets the requirements to provide a vessel/s to conduct the 2022 hydro-acoustic pelagic recruitment and 2022 south coast demersal trawl surveys. Sailing orders that detail the scope and extent of work (names of scientific personnel, scientific objectives and sampling routines and survey maps with pre-specified coordinates for positioning of transects and environmental sampling) will be supplied to the service provider and to the Master/skipper at least 10 days before departure and hence only an overview is provided below.

4. SCOPE AND EXTENT OF WORK

4.1. The service provider shall:

- 4.1.1. pay for all stores and provisions and the like and generally all that is required for the running, operation and maintenance of the vessel/s including the provision of bunker fuel and lubes for the vessel/s
- 4.1.2. provide all departmental officials with clean, well ventilated living accommodation
- 4.1.3. provide all departmental officials with three (3) reasonable, varied and decent meals per day and sufficient bottled drinking water (2L per person per day)
- 4.1.4. man the vessel with crew with the necessary experience and who are properly qualified, with due consideration to operational requirements of the vessel/s, its safety and maintenance and the safety and maintenance at sea of its fishing gear and equipment
- 4.1.5. take responsibility for the risk management of the vessel/s during the charter period and provide adequate supervision for the safety of the vessel/s during such periods as the vessel/s is in port
- 4.1.6. arrange for the insurance of the vessel/s during the period of the survey which shall include total loss, machinery breakdown and protection and indemnity (P&I) cover
- 4.1.7. implement effective COVID-19 protocols to minimise the risk of COVID-19 infection, including pre-departure screening of personnel, provision of sanitizer and PPE.

4.2. The Master/skipper shall:

- 4.2.1. navigate and operate the vessel in accordance with national regulations and directives
- 4.2.2. perform the voyages with due dispatch, and shall render all customary assistance. However, notwithstanding that the Master/skipper shall be under the orders and directions of the service provider as regards the deployment of the vessel, all tasks performed on board the vessel shall be under the ultimate supervision of the Master/skipper, and the navigation and safety of the vessel and her crew/personnel shall remain the responsibility of the Master/skipper.

4.3. The skipper/s must be:

- 4.3.1. suitably qualified and competent
- 4.3.2. familiar with the fishing grounds and harbours within the survey areas described in this document
- 4.3.3. able to communicate clearly in English.

4.4. The service provider/s must provide a vessel/s to ensure completion of the surveys. Whereas a single vessel to conduct both of the pelagic and (separately) both of the demersal surveys is preferred, the MLRF acknowledges that taking commercial vessels out of operation for a prolonged period of time may be difficult and hence service provider/s are invited to submit a tender to conduct one or more of the four surveys. Examples of the survey designs are included in Annexure A.

4.5. The vessel/s will be required to complete the following survey/s

- A. The 2022 hydro-acoustic pelagic recruitment survey (43 day period between mid May and early July)

- B. The Autumn 2022 South Coast Demersal Trawl Survey encompassing the continental shelf (from the coast to the 1 000 m isobath) between the 20°E line of longitude (Cape Agulhas) in the west and the 27°E line of longitude (Port Alfred) in the east to be conducted during April-May 2022.

4.6. The MLRF shall:

- 4.6.1 provide at its cost all scientific personnel and equipment (including midwater and demersal trawl gear as required for particular survey/s)
- 4.6.2 The MLRF will appoint officials as Scientists in Charge for each survey, who will act on behalf of the MLRF and communicate frequently with the Master/skipper regarding the survey objectives and sampling needs. This officer will also be responsible for supervision of other departmental staff and for communication with the MLRF during the survey. The Master/skipper and the Scientist in Charge will jointly decide on strategies to optimise time usage during the survey, such as when to cease sampling due to bad weather conditions, or deviate from the survey plans for whatever unforeseen reason.

4.7 For surveys A:

- 4.7.1. the vessel will be required alongside in Cape Town for a 2-day period prior to departure of each survey for loading and installing scientific equipment and trawl gear. Calibration of the acoustic system will be conducted either in Table Bay or in St Helena Bay (weather dependent). One or two technicians will either sail with the vessel (or embark the vessel) for this exercise which will take approximately 3 hours to complete. Once completed the technicians must be returned to the nearest port.
- 4.7.2. The vessel will then survey the area between the Orange River (pelagic recruit survey) or Hondeklip Bay (pelagic biomass survey) and Cape Agulhas before returning to Cape Town for one day to exchange scientific staff (subject to COVID-19 circumstances at the time), bunker and replenish supplies. The vessel will then survey the remainder of the area between Cape Agulhas and Port Alfred/Port St Johns before returning to Cape Town. One day is required in port at the end of the survey for offloading scientific equipment, trawl gear and samples.
- 4.7.3. The 43 day duration for the pelagic recruit survey is the maximum duration for this survey and includes allowance for bad weather days when sampling cannot be conducted because conditions are either not suitable for acoustic data collection or for safe trawling operations – during these adverse weather periods the vessel will either shelter inshore or move to (as determined during discussion between the Scientist in Charge and the Master/Skipper to be the safest and most cost-effective outcome). The vessel is expected to return to Cape Town immediately upon completion of the survey, irrespective of the total number of days used and hence the overall duration of the survey may be reduced.
- 4.7.4. The vessel/s must be:
- 4.7.4.1. available during the period specified for each survey
- 4.7.4.2. properly certified (copy of a valid SAMSA certificate to be provided) and compliant with the South African statutory regulations

- 4.7.4.3. maintained in a seaworthy condition for the duration of the charter period in accordance with good commercial maintenance practice, and replaced with a suitable alternative vessel at short notice in the event of a major breakdown
 - 4.7.4.4. equipped with a hull-mounted ES38-B Simrad split beam transducer positioned within the foremost 1/3 of the vessel's hull
 - 4.7.4.5. the GPS output must be available for input into the ER60 computer. The transducer plug connector must be made available for connection to a 38kHz GPT (to be supplied by DFFE, unless already installed by the local SIMRAD agent). A certificate from the local SIMRAD agent stating that the acoustic system is operational within the manufacturers specifications must be provided.
 - 4.7.4.6. calibrated at the start of the survey (DFFE to oversee) and noise levels checked through passive recording (should not exceed -80dB at 100m depth)
 - 4.7.4.7. in excess of 50m, fitted with a fixed-pitch propeller (4 or more blades), have a draft (fully bunkered) of not more than 6m
 - 4.7.4.8. able to maintain a survey speed of at least 10 knots, and to conduct mid-water trawling with the Africana midwater trawl gear at a speed of 3.5 knots in wind speeds of up to 30 knots
 - 4.7.4.9. fitted with a suitable net sounder system which allows for observations at fishing depths between 10m and 200m
 - 4.7.4.10. able to carry sufficient fuel, food/supplies and fresh water to stay at sea for at least 14 consecutive days
- 4.7.5. In addition, the vessel/s must make available:
- 4.7.5.1. adequate clean and functional accommodation and ablutions (separate for men and women) with bunks for 14 scientists
 - 4.7.5.2. suitable laundry facilities (washing machine and tumble drier) for the scientific officials
 - 4.7.5.3. a dedicated acoustic work area on the bridge, with a desk and chair and access to fitted electrical plug points for setup of acoustic loggers and computers
 - 4.7.5.4. sufficient deck space for sorting the catch by species into fish bins (the bins will be supplied by DFFE if necessary) and then weighing the bins. This requires large motion compensated scales (capable of weighing up to 100kg). These can be supplied by DFFE if necessary, but will have to be installed on the industry vessel and calibrated. The large scales must be readily accessible from the sorting table/surface (full fish bins will have to be transferred from the sorting table/surface to the scales for weighing).
 - 4.7.5.5. a dry, sheltered work area close to the weighing and sorting table with access to electric plug points for computers for capturing biological data
 - 4.7.5.6. suitable hand-held two-way radios or an intercom/telephone for communications between this location and the acoustic work area on the bridge
 - 4.7.5.7. blast freezers and freezer rooms for sample storage
 - 4.7.5.8. a constant supply of un-filtered seawater pumped from the sea-chest at >400l/min for the CUFES (Continuous Underwater Fish Egg Sampler) and sufficient sheltered space for installation of the sampler. A slave GPS readout must also be made available in this location

- 4.7.5.9. appropriate storage space for spare trawl nets, wires, doors and associated equipment (MLRF will provide 2 nets, a sets of doors, weights and associated wire and cables), scientific equipment (spare scales, microscopes, dissecting equipment etc.), chemicals (formalin, alcohol), sample vials and jars, sample bins and trays, plastic bags, otolith trays.
- 4.7.5.10. freezer facilities suitable for quick freezing a maximum of 300 kg of samples after each trawl to -20°C, and 10 tons holding freezer capacity (-10°C).
- 4.7.5.11. a deck winch with at least 400m of cable capable of deploying a portable CTD (<50kg) to a depth of 200m

4.8. For surveys B:

- 4.8.1. The vessel will be expected to be available at the quay for at most 2 days before and after the survey for loading/unloading of gear and scientific equipment
- 4.8.2. The vessel will be expected to remain at sea for the entire duration of the survey (a maximum of 38 days for the South Coast surveys, inclusive of days alongside during loading and unloading), although a “change-over” may be conducted half-way through each survey to refuel, take on water and fresh provisions if necessary and allow for a crew change (subject to COVID19 circumstances at the time). Such change-overs will occur either in Mossel Bay or Port Elizabeth harbours. The survey typically involves sampling 120 stations at an average rate of four (4) stations per day (depending on the depth where the vessel is working). The vessel is expected to return to Cape Town immediately upon completion of the survey, irrespective of the total number of days used and hence the overall duration of the survey may be reduced.
- 4.8.3. The vessel/s will be required to conduct scientific demersal trawling operations during daylight hours and acoustic surveying of the seabed at selected stations during the night.
- 4.8.4. The vessel/s must:
 - 4.8.4.1. be maintained in a seaworthy condition for the duration of the charter period/s (copy of a valid SAMSA certificate to be provided), and replaced with a suitable alternative vessel at short notice in the event of a major breakdown
 - 4.8.4.2. capable of deploying the DFFE scientific demersal trawl gear (German 4-panel 180 ft bottom trawl with modified rock-hopper footrope, 9m sweeps, Morgere trawl doors and equipped with a portable CTD and a “trawl eye” sensor mounted on headline of the net) to a maximum of 1 000 m depth and to tow the gear at 3.5 knots (speed over ground) for 30 minutes (standard tow duration).
 - 4.8.4.3. capable of detecting and logging net sensor data (i.e. the vessel must be equipped with a suitable net monitoring system capable of operating to 1000 m depth). The MLRF requires logged measurements of door spread, wing spread, headline height, contact with the sea floor and ideally temperature (but this latter is not critical). Africana currently uses MarPort sensors. An alternative system would be acceptable provided that the data could be logged.
 - 4.8.4.4. be equipped with MaxSea marine navigational software interfaced to the vessel's GPS.
 - 4.8.4.5. have sufficient deck space for sorting the catch by species into fish bins (the bins will be supplied by MLRF if necessary) and then weighing the bins. This requires large motion compensated scales (capable of weighing up to 100kg). These can be supplied by MLRF if necessary, but will have to be installed on the industry vessel and calibrated. The large scales must be readily accessible from the sorting table/surface (full fish bins will have to be transferred from the sorting table/surface to the scales for weighing).

- 4.8.4.6. have a suitable, safe area to weigh and measure large specimens of sharks, skates and sunfish that can then be released alive.
- 4.8.4.7. have a salt water supply and hose for washing off bins and equipment.
- 4.8.4.8. have scope for "laboratory" space for conducting fish measures and biological analyses, incorporating worktables/surfaces for measuring large numbers of fish. Ideally, this area should permit the installation of the Africana electronic fish boards (to be supplied by MLRF) that are interfaced to the FishBoard data collection computer, which will have to be located in a dry area with a desk, chair and power supply adjacent to the measuring tables to allow communication between the data manager and the fish measuring team. If this is not feasible, an alternative option would be the purchase of two portable electronic fish measuring boards that capture the data in electronic format, either on a built-in hard drive, or through an interface to a laptop computer. The least preferable option would be manual length data collection, requiring a data scribe in addition to the fish measurer
- 4.8.4.9. at least 2 (and preferably 3) additional work tables/surfaces for conducting biological analyses. Each should have access to a power supply to enable the installation of a motion compensated fine scale (to be supplied by MLRF)
- 4.8.4.10. an additional work table/surface with access to electricity for mounting a stereo microscope used for species identification (the microscope will be supplied by MLRF).
- 4.8.4.11. have scope for "office" space for the data manager, equipped with a desk (suitable for installing a personal computer and printer), chair and power supply. This area will need to remain dry, but be sufficiently close to the "laboratory" space to allow for communication between the data manager and the other scientific personnel.
- 4.8.4.12. have appropriate storage space for spare trawl nets, wires, doors and associated equipment (MLRF will provide 4 nets, 2 sets of doors, associated wire and cables, as well as net sensor gear if required), scientific equipment (spare scales, microscopes, dissecting equipment, etc.), chemicals (formalin, alcohol), sample vials and jars, sample bins and trays, plastic bags, otolith trays.
- 4.8.4.13. have suitable freezer facilities for quick freezing a maximum of 300 kg of samples after each trawl to -20°C, and a 10 ton holding freezer capacity (-10°C).
- 4.8.4.14. have suitable, clean and functional accommodation and ablutions (separate for men and women) for 14 scientific personnel (including an electronic technician and a fishing master).
- 4.8.4.15. have suitable laundry facilities (washing machine and tumble drier).

6. PERIOD / DURATION OF APPOINTMENT

- 6.1 The appointment/s will run during the period/s indicated per survey and will commence as agreed in the Memorandum of Agreement (MOA) signed between the MLRF and the service provider.
