1. PURPOSE

- 1.1. To appoint a qualified service provider to develop a National Wetland Policy for South Africa for the Department of Forestry, Fisheries and the Environment for a period of eighteen (18) months.

2. INTRODUCTION AND BACKGROUND

- 2.1. South Africa is a semi-arid country and has a limited number of wetlands compared to other countries. Although wetlands make up such a small proportion of South Africa's surface area (approximately 2.3%), they provide an array of valuable benefits to its people. Many of these wetlands comprise natural infrastructure that assists in managing the country's limited water resources, they also play a valuable role in mitigating the effects of pollution, provide a source of resilience against the effects of climate change, and contribute to the country's biodiversity targets and tourism value.
- 2.2. The management and protection of wetlands in South Africa cuts across the mandates of a number of different government departments and at all scales (national, provincial, regional and local) and as such is informed by various legislative frameworks, policies and strategies aimed at addressing environmental management, sustainable agricultural resources management and the sustainable, effective, and equitable use of water resources.
- 2.3. Despite the importance of these natural assets and the existence of various legislation, guidance and targets provided by numerous Multilateral Environmental Agreement (MEAs), much of the country's wetlands have been lost or degraded, leaving South Africa with just about half of the wetlands it once had. Of the remaining wetlands, evidence suggests that the country is at risk of losing the benefits provided by a further 48% of these ecosystems.
- 2.4. In 2018 a situational analysis conducted by the Department of Forestry, Fisheries, and the Environment (DFFE) on wetland legislation and policies in South Africa found that the conservation, management and protection of wetlands in South Africa is fragmented due to unclear mandates and responsibilities relating to wetlands, that there is a lack of a unified vision for wetlands and their management and that uncoordinated decision-making principles have, in part, contributed to the aforementioned wetland losses.
- 2.5. Similarly, over the past few years, the Department of Water and Sanitation (DWS) identified that wetland management decisions needed to be standardized and that co-ordinated action between all role-players needed to be improved. Studies undertaken by the Department of Agriculture, Land Reform and Rural Development (DALRRD) similarly came to same conclusions as those by DWS and DFFE.

- 2.6. To address the need for a more coordinated and aligned approach for effective wetland protection, management, and conservation, the DFFE, DALRRD, and DWS identified the need to develop a joint national wetland policy and strategic action plan. This is in line with the key recommendations of the 2020 Global Wetland Outlook, published by the Ramsar Convention which calls for Country Parties to develop necessary tools, strategies and policies to enhance the protection, management and conservation of wetlands. The improved management of wetlands are not only important for delivering a range of global obligations and targets, including the Ramsar Convention, the UN Sustainable Development Goals, the Global Biodiversity Framework targets, the Paris Agreement on Climate Change and UN Convention to Combat Desertification, but is also key for delivering on a large number of local (South African) strategies for land, agriculture, biodiversity and water.
- 2.7. The development of a National Wetlands Management Framework (NWMF), completed in December 2021 through a joint initiative between the DFFE, DWS and DALRRD together with supporting organisation such as SANBI, the ARC and WRC, was the first step towards the achievement of the above recommendations, and will now be followed by the implementation of the NWMF. One of the key actions listed in the NWMF that is need is the development of a National Wetland Policy. This policy, which will be the first of its kind for South Africa, will need to state the fundamental norms, rules, and values for wetland management that will apply to all those that have a role to play in managing South Africa's wetlands.

3. OBJECTIVES

- 3.1. To develop a co-created evidence based draft National Wetland Policy for South Africa.

4. SCOPE AND EXTENT OF WORK

- 4.1. The appointed service provider will be required to do the following:
  - 4.1.1. Develop an Inception Report which details the project approach to be followed, budget and milestones, and which includes a stakeholder consultation strategy.
  - 4.1.2. Undertake a comparative analysis of all relevant national policies including the provisions of, and principles for the management of wetlands provided by relevant Multilateral Environmental Agreements, to ensure that where appropriate the National Wetland Policy aligns to other policies thereby avoiding potential confusion and conflicts and to identify those areas where the policy is in conflict or has synergies with other policies that affect wetlands, thereby contributing to the understanding of the potential implications of the policy. Existing policies should be considered and, where appropriate those policies that are under development may also be considered.

- 4.1.3. Produce a draft National Wetland Policy for South Africa.
- 4.1.4. Gather, analyse and synthesise scientific evidence to underpin policy principles and responses.
- 4.1.5. Conduct at least ten (10) engagements (5 virtual and 5 physical) with relevant government and non-government related stakeholders on specific aspects (i.e. thematic areas) of the project including specific policy related principles and responses, and the outcomes of the other deliverables related to the project.
- 4.1.6. Undertake at least two (02) national virtual (online) engagements with government stakeholders on the draft policy including but not limited to Local government, National Environmental departments and their entities, Provincial government departments and other affected Departments. Inputs should be well documented and used to update the draft policy.
- 4.1.7. Develop all deliverables and undertake tasks in close consultation with a Project Management Committee (PMC). The project management committee will be established by the DFFE and secretarial services will be provided by DFFE and/or partner departments. Feedback on project progress and outcomes at least eight (08) PMC meetings will be required. At least 4 of the PMC meetings will be held in Pretoria. The remaining meetings will be held online.
- 4.1.8. Complete the preliminary final Socio-Economic Impact Assessment System (SEIAS).
- 4.1.9. Develop the National Wetland Policy for South Africa. This task should develop a policy that incorporates the findings of all other relevant tasks and should include testing of the draft policy against case studies. Wetland management challenges based on experiences in wetland management in South Africa should be formulated into scenarios and the solutions proposed in the policy should be tested against those scenarios. This version of the policy should be the version that is ready for submission for gazetting for public consultation.
- 4.1.10. Develop material (including e.g., presentations) for use in communicating the outcomes of the project to various audiences and develop material to be used in public consultations.
- 4.1.11. Host at least one (01) capacity building workshop on the final product.
