CERTIFICATE OF INDEPENDENT BID DETERMINATION

- 1 This Standard Bidding Document (SBD) must form part of all bids¹ invited.
- 2 Section 4 (1) (b) (iii) of the Competition Act No. 89 of 1998, as amended, prohibits an agreement between, or concerted practice by, firms, or a decision by an association of firms, if it is between parties in a horizontal relationship and if it involves collusive bidding (or bid rigging).² Collusive bidding is a pe se prohibition meaning that it cannot be justified under any grounds.
- 3 Treasury Regulation 16A9 prescribes that accounting officers and accounting authorities must take all reasonable steps to prevent abuse of the supply chain management system and authorizes accounting officers and accounting authorities to:
 - a. disregard the bid of any bidder if that bidder, or any of its directors have abused the institution's supply chain management system and or committed fraud or any other improper conduct in relation to such system.
 - b. cancel a contract awarded to a supplier of goods and services if the supplier committed any corrupt or fraudulent act during the bidding process or the execution of that contract.
- 4 This SBD serves as a certificate of declaration that would be used by institutions to ensure that, when bids are considered, reasonable steps are taken to prevent any form of bid-rigging.
- 5 In order to give effect to the above, the attached Certificate of Bid Determination (SBD 9) must be completed and submitted with the bid:

² Bid rigging (or collusive bidding) occurs when businesses, that would otherwise be expected to compete, secretly conspire to raise prices or lower the quality of goods and / or services for purchasers who wish to acquire goods and / or services through a bidding process. Bid rigging is, therefore, an agreement between competitors not to compete.

1. PURPOSE

- 1.1. To appoint a service provider who will undertake a study on the Assessment of the Environmental, Health, and Socio-economic Effects of Mercury Exposure in Affected Communities in South Africa.

2. INTRODUCTION AND BACKGROUND

2.1 Mercury and its effects on the environment and human health

Mercury is a highly toxic substance, which has serious effects on human health and on the environment. It can cause harmful effects on the nervous, digestive and immune systems and may be fatal. It can also cause neurological and behavioural disorders and symptoms such as insomnia, memory loss, neuromuscular effects, headaches, and cognitive and motor dysfunction. The harmful effects can be transferred from a mother to her unborn child. Infants, children and women of childbearing age are therefore most vulnerable.

Mercury is released both through natural sources such as volcanic and geothermal activity and human activity such as industrial processes (eg, cement and steel manufacturing; power generation, etc.) and waste disposal (eg, disposal of electronic equipment containing mercury, including some batteries and lighting equipment).

Mercury (Hg) has drawn global attention due to its persistence, toxicity, long-range transport, and bioaccumulation in the environment. The presence of mercury in the environment is a global problem as mercury can readily enter and be widely transported through the atmosphere, oceans and the food chain. It accumulates in the food chain. Consuming food contaminated with mercury is one of the major sources of exposure to mercury for both people and some animals.

2.2 The development of the Minamata Convention on Mercury

The Convention was adopted at the Diplomatic Conference for the Minamata Convention on Mercury, held in October 2013, in Japan. The aim of the Convention is to reduce anthropogenic emissions and releases of mercury and mercury compounds. South Africa signed the Minamata Convention in October 2013 and ratified it in April 2019. Its major highlights include a ban on new mercury mines, the phase-out of existing ones, the phase out and phase down of mercury use in a number of products, and processes, control measures on emissions to air and on releases to land and water, and the regulation of the informal sector of artisanal and small-scale gold mining known as illegal miners or Zama-Zamas in South Africa. The Convention also addresses interim storage of mercury and its disposal once it becomes waste, sites contaminated by mercury as well as human health issues. Once the country has ratified the convention; a party has a responsibility of developing and submitting its National Implementation Plan (NIP) to the Secretariat with specific measures as to how, how much, how long, and for which relevant sectors and products, will it reduce sources and releases of mercury into the environment.

2.3 The Development of the Minamata Initial Assessment (MIA) for South Africa

The Department of Forestry, Fisheries and Environment (DFFE) undertook the MIA in 2016 and completed it in 2020. The MIA consisted of the Level 2 Inventory of Mercury; an Assessment of the National Capacity, Infrastructure, Institutional Arrangements, and Legislation for Mercury; Opportunities and Challenges for Implementing the Convention; and Awareness Raising. The MIA is in essence a status quo of sources and releases of mercury including appropriate associated management tools in a country.

2.4 The rationale for the assessment of the related environmental, health and socio-economic effects of mercury

The Minamata Convention's primary objective is to promote regulatory measures that will protect human health and the environment from anthropogenic mercury and mercurial compound emissions and releases. Human health is, both, directly and indirectly addressed and emphasized throughout the convention.

During the MIA Validation Workshop, held in February 2020, stakeholders identified gaps that still need further studies to be addressed, in particular, those relating to health matters due to the impact of mercury on human and the environment, and others relating to the socio-economic impacts. This work is therefore the outcome of the MIA Validation Workshop as recommended by stakeholders.

Lack of adequate data and information specific to the South Africa's situation on mercury effects is hampering the capacity of the Department of Forestry, Fisheries and the Environment in undertaking effective policy interventions. The proposed study, to be undertaken over 24 months, will endeavour to close these data gaps and inform appropriate policy interventions.

3. OBJECTIVES

The purpose of this project is to develop a comprehensive assessment of the effects of mercury among the exposed communities to mercury emissions, products, and processes, as the primary objective of the Minamata Convention is to protect the environment and human health effects from the anthropogenic emissions of mercury. In particular, the project is aimed at the following:

- 3.1. To address the gaps related to environmental, health, and socio-economic effects of mercury exposure in affected communities identified during the Minamata Initial Assessment National Validation Workshop.
- 3.2. To assess the environmental, health, and socio-economic effects of mercury all from all sources, releases and emissions identified during SA MIA (inventory) process.
- 3.4. Identify and recommend options/instrument/ tools and tools that will ensure that all mercury sources and releases are managed in environmental sound manner throughout their life cycle and value chain.
- 3.5. Identify and recommend options/instrument and tools to facilitate the transit to sustainable development designs and processes regarding mercury release reduction from the various relevant sectors and industries in SA excluding emissions.
- 3.6. Identify misinformation, misconception, misuse of mercury by the public mostly especially by the most vulnerable communities
- 3.7. Identify and recommend options/instrument and tools to integrate mercury in the National environmental agenda in South Africa

4. SCOPE AND EXTENT OF WORK

The Project will be undertaken over 24 months. The scope of the study is outlined below. Building on the work undertaken in the MIA for South Africa, the appointed service provider/s will undertake the following:

- 4.1 Assess the environmental, health, and socio-economic effects of mercury all from all sources, releases and emissions identified during SA MIA (inventory) process; the following list is not conclusive:
 - a) Health Impact and risk assessment
 - b) Assess exposure pathway analysis
 - c) Exposure concentrations
 - d) Population vulnerability assessment
 - e) Epidemiological analysis
- 4.2 Assess the environmental, health, and socio-economic effects of mercury all from all sources, releases and emissions identified during SA MIA (inventory) process.

- 4.3 Compile an inventory of mercury added products in the public health care sector, and investigate safe alternatives including dental amalgam, their costs, availability, and efficacy.
- 4.4 Assess the health impacts in communities on mercury releases from industry, and residential areas from coal burning and domestic use.
- 4.5 Identify international Best Environmental Practice (BEP) and Best Available Technique (BAT) on mercury sources and releases, to ensure environmental sound management throughout their life cycle and value chain, and how such can be adapted to the SA situation.
- 4.6 Identify and recommend options/instrument and tools to facilitate the transit to sustainable development designs and processes regarding mercury release reduction from the various relevant sectors and industries in SA excluding emissions.
- 4.7 Identify and recommend options/instrument and tools to integrate mercury in the National environmental agenda in South Africa.

5. EXPECTED DELIVERABLES / OUTCOMES
