Appendix A – Scope of Work

The Automotive Laboratory in East London is currently carrying out exhaust emission tests (Stage 1 to 4) for most of the local OEM's (Original Equipment Manufacturers) in the automotive industry with Ford SA being its main client. Other OEM's also testing at the laboratory are Isuzu SA, Nissan SA, Toyota SA and VWSA. The emission laboratory had to upgrade the VETS automation system in 2015 due to Test Cell 1 being converted to accommodate Stage 5 & 6 testing for clients. Due to age and the ongoing load shedding, the servers related to the current Automation system (VETS) have become problematic over the past year. The current VETS equipment has become obsolete as advised and experienced when they were sent to Horiba for diagnosis late last year. No testing was done since September last year. After swapping of various parts on a trial-and-error basis only one Test cell can be used for testing. Testing can take place now in October. With the intended upgrade, exhaust emission testing can continue knowing that the laboratory has the latest version of the Automation system which has the capabilities for WLTP and EU7 should this route be pursued.
