C2.1 Pricing assumptions: Option A

The conditions of contract

How work is priced and assessed for payment

Clause 11 in NEC3 Engineering and Construction Contract, April 2013 (ECC3) Option A states:

Identified and defined terms	11
	11.2	(20) The Activity Schedule is the activity schedule unless later changed in accordance with this contract.
		(22) Defined Cost is the cost of the components in the Shorter Schedule of Cost Components whether work is subcontracted or not excluding the cost of preparing quotations for compensation events.
		(27) The Price for Work Done to Date is the total of the Prices for
		• each group of completed activities and • each completed activity which is not in a group.
		A completed activity is one which is without Defects which would either delay or be covered by immediately following work.
		(30) The Prices are the lump sum prices for each of the activities on the Activity Schedule unless later changed in accordance with this contract.

Option A is a lump sum form of contract where the work is broken down into activities, each of which is priced by the tendering contractor as a lump sum. Only completed activities are assessed for payment at each assessment date; no part payment is made if the activity is not completed by the assessment date.

Function of the Activity Schedule

Clause 54.1 in Option A states: "Information in the Activity Schedule is not Works Information or Site Information". This confirms that instructions to do work or how it is to be done are not included in the Activity Schedule but in the Works Information. This is further confirmed by Clause 20.1 which states, "The Contractor Provides the Works in accordance with the Works Information". Hence the Contractor does not Provide the Works in accordance with the Activity Schedule. The Activity Schedule is only a pricing document.

Link to the programme

Clause 31.4 states that "The Contractor provides information which shows how each activity on the Activity Schedule relates to the operations on each programme which he submits for acceptance". Hence when compiling the activity schedule, the tendering contractor needs to show each activity on the programme he submits with his tender.

Preparing the activity schedule

The tendering contractor prepares the activity schedule and should study the ECC3 Guidance Notes pages 19 and 20 before doing so. The Employer may have instructed the tendering contractor to include particular activities which he has specified and requires the Contractor to identify them in his activity schedule.

- 1 Generally it is the Contractor who prepares the Activity Schedule as part of his tender by breaking down the work described within the Works Information into suitable activities which can be well defined, priced as a lump sum and shown on the programme. The Employer, in his Conditions of Tender or in a Tender Schedule, may have listed some items that he requires the Contractor to include in his activity schedule and be priced accordingly.
- 2 The Prices are defined in clause 11.2(20) as the lump sum for each activity in the activity schedule and the Price for Work Done to Date (PWDD) (the amount due to the contractor) is defined in clause 11.2(24) as the total of the Prices for each activity that has been completed. Hence activities in the activity schedule should be structured so as to provide an acceptable monthly cash flow as they are only assessed for payment on the assessment date if they have been completed.
- 3 As the Contractor has an obligation to correct Defects (core clause 43.1) and there is no compensation event for this unless the Defect was due to an Employer's risk, the lump sum Prices must also include for the correction of Defects.
- 4 If the Contractor has decided not to identify a particular activity, the cost to the Contractor of doing the work must be included in, or spread across, the other Prices in order to fulfil the obligation to complete the works for the tendered total of the Prices.
- 5 There is no adjustment to the lump sum activity schedule price if the amount, or quantity, of work within that activity later turns out to be different to that which the contractor estimated at time of tender. The only basis for a change to the Prices is as a result of a compensation event. See Clause 60.1.
- 6 Hence the Prices tendered by the Contractor in the activity schedule are inclusive of everything necessary and incidental to Providing the Works in accordance with the Works Information, as it was at the time of tender, as well as correct any Defects not caused by an Employer's risk.
- 7 However, the Contractor does not have to allow in his Prices for matters that may arise as a result of a compensation event. It should be noted that the list of compensation events includes those arising as a result of an Employer's risk event listed in core clause 80.1.

C3.1 Employer's Works Information

1.1 Description of the works

Executive overview

At OR Tambo International Airport (ORTIA), the aviation fuel supply chain is a critical safety- and reliability-driven system that begins at the on-site fuel depot and extends through to the fuelling of aircraft at the apron. Jet A-1 fuel is received from external refineries via dedicated pipelines and routed to the OR Tambo Fuel Services (ORTFS) tank farms, where it is stored, monitored, and quality-controlled in accordance with stringent aviation and regulatory standards. Within the tank farms, fuel is transferred through controlled pumping, filtration, metering, and hydrant distribution systems, supported by instrumentation, automation, and communication networks that ensure accurate level measurement, overfill protection, and safe operations. From the tank farms, fuel is delivered via the hydrant system or refuelling vehicles to the aircraft stands, where final filtration, pressure control, and quality checks are performed before fuel is uplifted into aircraft. Throughout this process, system integrity, contamination prevention, reliable instrumentation, and proper communication infrastructure are essential to maintaining flight safety, operational continuity, and regulatory compliance at one of Africa's busiest airports.

Despite the overall robustness of the fuel handling and distribution system, several critical risks and deficiencies have been identified that require urgent intervention. These include the potential risk of Jet A-1 cross-contamination at ORTFS Tank Farm 2 due to the current routing of thermal relief valve (TRV) discharge lines, vulnerabilities in the control and communication infrastructure arising from a redundant fiber network backbone not being operational, and equipment reliability issues such as a faulty actuator on the NATREF receiving pipeline. Additional concerns relate to instrumentation and safety systems, including required upgrades to Tanks 12 and 13, specifically the relocation of transmitters and reconfiguration of high-level monitoring and overfill protection as well as the replacement of a damaged level transmitter at the firewater reservoir. Furthermore, aspects of the fuel handling infrastructure must be upgraded to meet hazardous area and fuel storage requirements, including installing an EX-rated pump, improving tank labelling and ventilation, providing bunding for portable tanks, and ensuring full compliance with applicable safety regulations.

Employer's objectives and purpose of the works

In brief, the Contractor is to perform the design, manufacture, supply, and installation of various fuel infrastructure at O. R. Tambo International Airport (ORTIA, or the airport) safely.

The objective is to address identified system shortcomings to enhance reliability, safety, and operational efficiency.

Key issues to be resolved include:

- Risk of Jet A-1 cross-contamination due to incorrect routing of thermal relief valve (TRV) discharge lines.
- Lack of system redundancy and unreliable communication caused by a non-operational fiber network backbone, resulting in a single point of failure.
- Faulty actuator on the NATREF receiving pipeline affecting reliable fuel receipt and control.
- Inadequate or non-compliant instrumentation on Tanks 12 and 13, including high-level monitoring and overfill protection systems.
- Damaged level transmitter at the firewater reservoir compromising accurate level indication.

- Non-compliance of fuel handling equipment, including the need to replace the pump with an EX-rated unit suitable for hazardous areas.
- Insufficient labelling and identification of fuel storage tanks.
- Inadequate ventilation in fuel storage areas.
- Absence or inadequacy of bunding for portable fuel tanks, increasing spill and environmental risk.
- Overall non-compliance with hazardous area classification and fuel storage safety regulations.

The Employer seeks to eliminate safety risks, improve system resilience, and ensuring that the ORTIA fuel supply and aircraft refuelling operations remain safe, compliant, and reliable.
