1 Introduction

The Electoral Commission (IEC) is in the process of upgrading its Disaster Recovery (DR) environment to take advantage of the Kemp's Global Server Load Balancing (GSLB) capabilities to provide improved high availability and seamless switch over from production environment to the Disaster Recovery environment. As a result, the IEC seeks to acquire the following through this auction:

- a) Upgrade to the 2 x Cold Spare licenses— because of GSLB, the current cold spare license needs to be upgraded to an active license. The Cold Spare resides in the Demilitarized Zone (DMZ).
- b) A 3-Year 24/7 Enterprise Plus Support and Maintenance
- c) 2 x Virtual licenses for the internal network with a 3-year 24/7 Support and Maintenance.
- d) Co-Term the Production DMZ Load balancers' licenses to expire at the same time as the Cold Spare. The appliances have valid licenses until 22 July 2023.
- e) Fibre transceivers (SFPs) for the Load balancers at the DR site to communicate with the switch using fibre connections
- f) Configuration of the load balancers and the high availability option (GSLB).

Bidders must place a bid on the Votaquotes (e-Procurement) system and then provide all the required documentation before the due dates as specified in this document and on the Votaquotes web site.

2 Background Information

The Electoral Commission has invested extensively in ICT technologies, which provide a platform to effectively support and enable its business processes and to meet its goal of providing a free and fair election process in an open and transparent environment. The Electoral Commission's ICT Department intends to continue running a highly efficient, secure and stable ICT environment making full use of industry standards, best practices and disciplines based upon stable, secure and reliable technologies.

The IEC has implemented some redundancy in terms of providing duplicate servers in most instance and seeks to implement High Availability and load sharing by introducing load balancers that will manage the load to the servers in a more intelligent manner.
