INVITATION TO BID FOR THE PROVISION OF EVENT COORDINATION SERVICES FOR A LARGE-SCALE EVENT HOSTED BY IZIKO MUSEUMS OF SOUTH AFRICA

1. INTRODUCTION

Iziko Museums of South Africa (Iziko) is a schedule 3A public entity and non-profit organisation, partly subsidised by the National Department of Sport, Arts & Culture (DSAC), bringing together 11 national museums and a Social History Centre situated in the Western Cape under a single governance and leadership structure. Iziko was established in terms of the Cultural Institutions Act, 1998 (Act No. 119 of 1998) and is required to comply with the Public Finance Management Act (PFMA), 1999 (Act No. 1 of 1999, as amended) and its concomitant Regulations.

2. BACKGROUND

The remains of South Africa's First Peoples, including the Khoi, San, and other indigenous groups, were taken without consent, commodified, and used to support racist ideologies. These ancestors were collected through grave robbing and illicit trade and were treated not as human beings but as specimens for exploitation. Their remains were kept in institutions across the country and abroad under colonial and apartheid rule for decades.

Iziko Museums of South Africa, as the implementing agency in collaboration with the South African Heritage Resources Agency's Repatriation and Restitution Office, will lead the reburial of 63 ancestral remains that originate from the Northern Cape.

This reburial is more than a physical act of returning remains to the soil. It is the restoration of dignity. It is the fulfilment of long-standing cultural and spiritual responsibilities. It is a moment of healing for communities that have suffered centuries of erasure and displacement.

3. SCOPE OF WORK

Iziko Museums of South Africa seeks the services of an experienced professional event coordination service provider to manage the logistical, infrastructural, and operational components of a large-scale reburial project. This is a presidential event and planning, and delivery should reflect this.

The project comprises culturally significant multi-day reburial events involving up to 1 300 participants. The events include transport from the Northern Cape for the Community Human Remains Task Team, accommodations, catering, transport to the Northern Cape from Cape Town, a night vigil event, the burial event, and transport for participants within the Northern Cape.

Burial site: The burial site is located in a rural area of the Northern Cape with the nearest town of Steinkopf, located 20km away. Access to the burial area is via main road but the burial ground is located inland from the tar road along 5kms of gravel road. The burial area has vast amounts of space and is relatively flat, but a general Karoo terrain should be expected.

Event Description: The repatriation and reburial of ancestral remains will take place over a five-day period and requires the coordinated movement, accommodation, and care of large groups of participants from both the Northern Cape and Cape Town. The programme encompasses travel, ceremonial activities, catering, accommodation, and infrastructure to support a respectful and dignified process.

Day 1–2: Travel and Preparatory Events

Community leadership from across five Northern Cape districts will travel to Cape Town to accompany the ancestral remains to their home communities. A luncheon at the Iziko South African Museum will bring together approximately 70 participants, before return travel to the Northern Cape.

Day 3–5: Vigil, Reburial, and Departure

Participants from across the Northern Cape, together with Cape Town representatives, will gather in Steinkopf for the ceremonial programme, including a night vigil and reburial. The event will be attended by community members, traditional leaders, and VVIP guests. Departure of participants back to their home districts will conclude the proceedings.

Accommodation and Catering

Provision is required for accommodation across multiple towns, with up to 1300 participants (TBC on appointment). Meals must be prepacked for travel and general use, with a formal VVIP luncheon during the reburial event. Traditional food preparation, including the slaughter of livestock, will be an integral part of the ceremonies and must comply with all health and safety regulations.

Transport and Logistics

Transport includes large-scale bus travel within the Northern Cape, as well as from Cape Town to Steinkopf. Catering for travel days is required for approximately 1,000 people.

Site Infrastructure and Support Services

The reburial site will require full infrastructure setup, including tents, ablutions, audio-visual, staging, seating, medical and emergency services, and security. All infrastructure and service provision must comply with occupational health, safety, and permitting requirements.

The multiday reburial event (5 days and 4 nights) comprising of:

- The provision and coordination of transport from various locations in the Northern Cape to and from the burial site 20km from Steinkopf and to and from Cape Town.
- Provision and coordination of all events related permits and Occupational Health and Safety regulations prescribed by the Northern Cape Provincial Government and impacted Municipality.
- Provision, coordination and supervising the installation of site infrastructure and equipment detailed within this document, including Bedouin tents or shading, ablutions, and furniture.
- Provision, coordination and payment for accommodation and securing event spaces as prescribed herein.
- Provision of livestock for traditional ritual slaughter as well as slaughtering of livestock in consultation with community leadership.
- Traditional food preparation of slaughtered livestock.
- Catering for all days of travel and reburial.
- Provision of water for the duration of reburial event.
- Post event cleaning, clearing, infrastructural strike – returning area to its original state.
- On the day event logistics coordination, administration and implementation.
- Full project management of entire event to ensure successful delivery.
- Use local, Northern Cape community as much as possible.

The appointed service provider must ensure sensitivity to the cultural, spiritual, and historical nature of the event and demonstrate the ability to deliver large-scale logistical operations in rural contexts.

The scope of work outlined herein is contingent upon the finalisation and approval of the project budget and may be adjusted (particularly reduced) should the approved funding not fully accommodate the proposed activities.

Some services may be removed.

Some service elements would be multi-day hires and in use for the duration of the event. These would potentially include the tents, ablutions, catering equipment and fridges.
