SABS conducts a diverse range of testing activities, including proficiency testing, testing, calibration, inspection, and evaluation across various technologies and industries at a total of twenty-six (26) dedicated test laboratories, with each laboratory authorized to conduct testing in accordance with a multitude of specifications or standards.

Therefore, the contracted service provider is tasked with developing, configuring, or customization of the proposed enterprise-wide Laboratory Information Management System software as per the examined, confirmed, and validated business requirements and functional requirements specification (FRS) documents. outlined by SABS. Given that SABS operates 26 dedicated test laboratories, the LIMS must be capable of supporting the operations of each of these facilities. This includes managing testing activities, data storage, and reporting for all laboratories.

The proposed enterprise-wide Laboratory Information Management System needs to support various specifications, standards, and test methods used across different laboratories within the South African Bureau of Standards – see spreadsheet below. This shall include customization of workflows, data entry forms, algorithms, calculations, validations checks, and reporting templates for all specified test methods & standards. This customization ensures that the system can adapt to the specific needs of each laboratory and testing method(s).

Deliverable: Working application/system that meets the requirements laid out in the system analysis phase, Business Requirements Specification, and Functional Requirements Specification documents.

3. Testing & Quality Assurance (QA)

The contracted service provider shall be responsible for executing rigorous and exhaustive testing of the proposed enterprise-wide standardized Laboratory Information Management System (LIMS). This encompasses comprehensive assessment across various devices, and operating systems to pinpoint and address any functional discrepancies, irregularities, or bugs encountered - paramount importance is placed on guaranteeing seamless cross-device and cross-platform compatibility by the contracted service provider. Additionally, the service provider must conduct load testing to verify the system's capability to effectively manage heightened concurrent traffic volumes.

During the development phase, the contracted service provider shall formulate a Testing and User Acceptance Testing (UAT) plan, which will be submitted for approval by the South African Bureau of Standards.

The Testing and User Acceptance Testing plan must encompass all testing scenarios and test cases. The plans shall include a Requirements Traceability Matrix (RTM) as an essential component. The Requirements Traceability Matrix shall serve to provide a clear and structured mapping between each test case/scenario and the corresponding functional and business requirements it validates. The Requirements Traceability Matrix shall facilitate traceability throughout the project lifecycle by establishing a link between the initial requirements (i.e., business requirements specification), the design and development phase (i.e., functional requirements specification), and the testing and validation phase. It shall serve as a reference document for stakeholders to ensure that all requirements are adequately tested and validated, thereby enhancing the overall quality and reliability of the final product.

The system must undergo comprehensive testing to the satisfaction of the South African Bureau of Standards (SABS) cross-functional implementation team before the final go live. The contracted service provider shall provide a minimum viable prototype in testing mode to utilize during the respective User Acceptance Testing phase.

User Acceptance Testing of the system will be conducted collaboratively with representatives from SABS. During User Acceptance Testing, all final functional requirements must be thoroughly tested. In the event of any discrepancy between the functional requirement specifications and the outcomes of the User Acceptance Testing, the contracted service provider must identify the revealed bugs and promptly address them. The identified bugs will then undergo subsequent testing to ensure compliance. This iterative process will continue until all requirements in the checklists are tested and validated as correct by the SABS and approved in compliance with the final functional requirements.

3.1. Testing

The service provider has the responsibility to ensure that the implemented off-the-shelf or custom developed solution undergoes thorough testing. which verify that different components of the system work together properly, and User acceptance tests, which allow end-users to test the software to ensure that it meets their standards.

Deliverable(s) (Not limited to): Quality Assurance Report, Signed User Acceptance Test (UAT) Report, Requirements Traceability Matrix.

4. Laboratory Information Management System Validation & Qualification

System validation shall be conducted following the development and configuration of the proposed Laboratory Information Management System. Validating the proposed Laboratory Information Management System (LIMS) is a critical process to ensure that the system meets all relevant regulatory requirements, operates as intended, and produces reliable, repeatable, and accurate results.

(i) Installation Qualification (IQ):

System	Data Size	Comments
VeriLIMS	5-6 GB	- Historical data from 2012 which needs to be kept alive for reference because it is linked to active plants and projects. - Slow data growth due to database design. - Volume and complexity differ, as there are 20+ methods with various checks and balances and relational links: one data set determines how multiple others are calculated and validated. - VeriLIMS is significantly different from others as it doesn't just handle sample tracking. -
LABWARE LIMS	822.37 GB (Data Size) 711.32 GB (LIMS User Schema) 7.63 GB (RPS)
DuToit LIMS	86.72 GB

An example of the completed Data is provided on pages 156 to 158 of the ECC3 (April 2013) Guidance Notes.

ECC3 Option A

C2.1	Pricing assumptions: Option A

5 How work is priced and assessed for payment

Clause 11 in NEC3 Engineering and Construction Contract, (ECC3) Option A states:

Identified and defined terms

11

11.2

(20) The Activity Schedule is the activity schedule unless later changed in accordance with this contract.

(27) The Price for Work Done to Date is the total of the Prices for

- each group of completed activities and
- each completed activity which is not in a group.

A completed activity is one which is without Defects which would either delay or be covered by immediately following work.

(30) The Prices are the lump sum prices for each of the activities on the Activity Schedule unless later changed in accordance with this contract.

This confirms that Option A is a lump sum form of contract where the work is broken down into activities, each of which is priced by the tendering contractor as a lump sum. Only completed activities are assessed for payment at each assessment date; no part payment is made if the activity is not completed by the assessment date.

6 Function of the Activity Schedule

Clause 54.1 in Option A states: “Information in the Activity Schedule is not Works Information or Site Information”. This confirms that specifications and descriptions of the work or any constraints on how it is to be done are not included in the Activity Schedule but in the Works Information. This is further confirmed by Clause 20.1 which states, “The Contractor Provides the Works in accordance with the Works Information”. Hence the Contractor does not Provide the Works in accordance with the Activity Schedule. The Activity Schedule is only a pricing document.

7 Link to the programme

Clause 31.4 states that “The Contractor provides information which shows how each activity on the Activity Schedule relates to the operations on each programme which he submits for acceptance”. Ideally the tendering contractor will develop a high level programme first then resource each activity and thus arrive at the lump sum price for that activity both of which can be entered into the activity schedule.

8 Preparing the activity schedule

Generally it is the tendering contractor who prepares the activity schedule by breaking down the work described within the Works Information into suitable activities which can be well defined, shown on a programme and priced as a lump sum.

The Employer, in his Instructions to Tenderers or in a Tender Schedule, may have listed some items that he requires the Contractor to include in his activity schedule and be priced accordingly.

It is assumed that in preparing his activity schedule the Contractor:

- Has taken account of the guidance given in the ECC3 Guidance Notes pages 19 and 20;
- Understands the function of the Activity Schedule and how work is priced and paid for;
- Is aware of the need to link the Activity Schedule to activities shown on his programme;
- Has listed and priced activities in the activity schedule which are inclusive of everything necessary and incidental to Providing the Works in accordance with the Works Information, as it was at the time of tender, as well as correct any Defects not caused by an Employer's risk;
- Has priced work he decides not to show as a separate activity within the Prices of other listed activities in order to fulfil the obligation to complete the works for the tendered total of the Prices.
- Understands there is no adjustment to the lump sum Activity Schedule price if the amount, or quantity, of work within that activity later turns out to be different to that which the Contractor estimated at time of tender. The only basis for a change to the Prices is as a result of a compensation event.

An activity schedule could have the following format: The contractor to detailed and price all activities, resources, equipment expenses ,disbursements, administration including any item deemed necessary to completed the works to successfully complete the projects in line with below table .

3.2.1. POINTS AWARDED FOR PRICE

A maximum of 80 or 90 points is allocated for price on the following basis:

80/20	or	90/10
$Ps = 80 \left(1 + \frac{Pt - P_{max}}{P_{max}} \right)$	or	$Ps = 90 \left(1 + \frac{Pt - P_{max}}{P_{max}} \right)$

Where

Ps = Points scored for price of tender under consideration

Pt = Price of tender under consideration

Pmax = Price of highest acceptable tender

4. POINTS AWARDED FOR SPECIFIC GOALS

- 4.1. In terms of Regulation 4(2); 5(2); 6(2) and 7(2) of the Preferential Procurement Regulations, preference points must be awarded for specific goals stated in the tender. For the purposes of this tender the tenderer will be allocated points based on the goals stated in table 1 below as may be supported by proof/ documentation stated in the conditions of this tender:

4.2. In cases where organs of state intend to use Regulation 3(2) of the Regulations, which states that, if it is unclear whether the 80/20 or 90/10 preference point system applies, an organ of state must, in the tender documents, stipulate in the case of—

- (a) an invitation for tender for income-generating contracts, that either the 80/20 or 90/10 preference point system will apply and that the highest acceptable tender will be used to determine the applicable preference point system; or
- (b) any other invitation for tender, that either the 80/20 or 90/10 preference point system will apply and that the lowest acceptable tender will be used to determine the applicable preference point system, then the organ of state must indicate the points allocated for specific goals for both the 90/10 and 80/20 preference point system.

Table 1: Specific goals for the tender and points claimed are indicated per the table below.

(Note to organs of state: Where either the 90/10 or 80/20 preference point system is applicable, corresponding points must also be indicated as such.
