2. Departmental and Programme Overview

The Tourist Guiding Sector in South Africa is regulated by the Tourism Act No 3 of 2014. The Act sets out a framework which seeks to regulate both the conduct and the governance of the Sector. Furthermore, it provides for the appointments of the National and Provincial Registrars of Tourist Guides whose functions are mainly concerned with the development and promotion of the guiding Sector; the improvement and maintenance of standards and ensuring compliance within the Sector.

The development of the tourist guiding Sector also links to the broader objectives contained in the National Tourism Sector Strategy (NTSS) especially in terms of brand positioning and the delivery of world-class visitor experiences these mandates further provide the basis for all guiding initiatives implemented by the various Departments, both at national and provincial levels.

One of the objectives of the Department of Economic Development, Tourism and Environment Affairs is to implement radical transformation in the Sector in order to ensure that everyone have equal access to opportunities. The White Paper on the Development and Promotion of Tourism in KwaZulu-Natal (2008) under training and development states that the engine of the Tourism Sector is its human resources.
