1. SCOPE OF WORK

1.1. DESCRIPTION

South Africa is a water stressed country, and its water resources are under tremendous pressure from a growing population, on-going development, climate change, pollution, and other human impacts. Water conservation and demand management is crucial in South Africa today as water is a scarce resource. The wise use of water is vital to ensure the sustainability of water supply. Water Wise is Rand Water's environmental brand. The role of Water Wise is to increase awareness of the need to value water and to use it wisely. Education programmes offered by Water Wise aim to change people's attitude and their behaviour. Programmes teach people to become more sustainable in their everyday activities and use water wisely. Water Wise has six (6) meanings which is used as a foundation for water education programmes (Figure 1).

Water Wise has for many years been forging partnerships and developing relationships with schools, non-profit organisations, businesses, nurseries, individuals, etc. Rand Water runs several programmes annually with these stakeholders. Rand Water's Water Wise Education Team (WWET) offers edutaining (educational and entertaining) programmes for schools and produces education material (books, posters, brochures, etc.) for use by schools and the public. Education programmes and material are in line with the school curriculum and the United Nation's Sustainable Development Goals. Education for Sustainable Development is key to mould Water Wise South African citizens.

Many exhibitions and events are held where Water Wise activities are facilitated. The WWET requires six (6) portable water display stands to illustrate how a variety of Water Wise devices function, and to be used in Water Wise activities. These water display stands need to include the following:

- * Standalone display that has a trough with a dual flush toilet on the top. Must have working buttons.
- * The Dual Flush Toilet Cistern must have a clear perspex window so that the workings of the cistern can be viewed.
- * The markings 6 litres and 9 litres must be shown on the perspex window. If the volume of the cistern is less than the numbers will need to change. (Please check which size is used.)
- * The trough must have a tap on the one side for activity purposes (i.e. changing a washer) and so that the water in the trough can be drained.
- * Tap will need to be taken apart so that the washer can be changed as an activity. (Any chance of a clear tap?)
- * Have a water efficient shower head (with aerator) on the other side of the unit to illustrate efficient water flow.

- * Please include a pump (electricity and solar option) that can pump the water from the back end of the trough, through a water meter and into the cistern. People need to see how a water meter functions and is read.
- * Need an option to have a water connector at the back of the display unit to fill the trough from a normal tap. Please include a hose pipe and connector.
- * Also need 2 blue basins to collect water at the tap and shower.
- * Must be able to fit the display stand into the back of a bakkie.
- * The water display stands must be branded with the Water Wise logo.
- * These are just ideas, but Rand Water is open to practical suggestions. Schematic drawings with measurements need to be drawn according to the WWET's needs and signed off by Rand Water before production.

Number of display stands: 6

An example of two display stands is shown below just to show the concept. A new design is needed.
