TERMS OF REFERENCE FOR THE APPOINTMENT OF A RESEARCH PANEL

1. FPB BACKGROUND

The Film and Publications Board (FPB) is a schedule 3A Public Entity established in terms of the Films and Publications Act, 65 of 1996("the Act"), as amended. The objective of the FPB is to regulate the creation, production, distribution and possession of films, games and certain publications by means of classification, assigning age restrictions and providing consumer advice. Additionally, the Act protects children from exposure to disturbing and harmful materials and from premature exposure to adult experiences (Section 2b). The FP Act further "sanctions punishment for the use of children in and exposure of children to pornography" as well as criminalising "the possession, production and distribution of child pornography (referred to as Child Sexual Exploitation Material – or CSAM)" (Section 2c and 2d). This particular focus on children has been necessitated by the realisation that the public, and young children particularly, are increasingly active in various online platforms, generating, storing and distributing content, which signals susceptibility to a mixture of physical and online harms.

2. SCOPE OF PROJECT

The purpose of this document is to request for the establishment of a research panel which will assist the FPB Regulatory Development and Research Analysis (RD&RA) unit in producing evidence based solutions to the intricacies of media content regulation. Research and Development (R&D) have proven in many instances that it can lead institutions towards innovativeness. These innovations have the potential to guide the FPB to improved organisational processes and a better understanding of the media content regulatory environment. As one of the leading media content regulators in Africa, the FPB must develop an ability to make use of technological knowledge and innovations in relation to its expanded mandate. This means that the institution must constantly be engaged in an interactive learning process and efforts must be directed towards the assimilation, use and adaptation of new knowledge and innovations.

Since the operationalisation of the Act, the FPB has conducted several research projects meant to facilitate the implementation process of the same. The RD&RA unit seeks to leverage on the breadth and depth of expertise in the areas pertinent to the research agenda of the FPB. This is a common practice adopted in many organisations that experience capacity limitations vis-à-vis the scope of work required by the organisation. In addition to the expertise requested, the research panel will further assist the RD&RA unit to improve its turnaround times for research requests emanating from the organisation. Among other areas, the research panel should have experience and expertise in the following:

- 2.1. Classification systems and appropriate regulatory approaches for films, games and certain publications;
- 2.2. Media content regulation research including processes such as licencing, compliance monitoring, investigations, policies, procedures and enforcement models
- 2.3. Child protection, child development, consumer protection and customer care strategies;
