| 1.   | What is the relationship, if any, to the RFI for an Asset Performance Management RFI that was published in 2022?                                                                                                           | Kindly note that these are separate RFI's, no relationship exists between the two. The 2022 RFI was for the APM tool and this RFI is for the asset management centre. | 23 May 2024             |
| 2.   | Will it be possible to grant a two-week extension to the submission date to allow for the compilation of a comprehensive response along with our OEM partner GE, and to allow for internal approval processes to complete? | Yes, RFI closing date has been extended and will now close on the 17.06.2024 at 10h00am                                                                               | 23 May 2024             |
