1. PURPOSE

- 1.1 To appoint a service provider to provide Skills Development Training Programmes for the Department of Forestry, Fisheries, and the Environment for the period of Four (04) Months as and when required.

2. INTRODUCTION AND BACKGROUND

- 2.1 The Department of Forestry, Fisheries, and the Environment (DFFE) is the custodian of the forestry function in South Africa. Part of the function entails the implementation of those initiatives that result in the development of communities using forestry resources. When South Africa moved to an all-inclusive society and economy post-1994; it became apparent that the country did not have enough human capacity for economic growth and economic empowerment of the previously disadvantaged majority of the population. The skills shortage in South Africa has been identified as one of the factors that retard service delivery and economic growth. In response to the skills shortage challenge, legislation was enacted, and strategies formulated; key amongst them was the Skills Development Act (1998) which lead to the formulation of the Skills Development and Human Resource Development Strategies. The National Skills Development Strategy 2030 emphasises that creating inclusive and capable communities is very imperative in ensuring that all South Africans can participate in the economic landscape of the country.
- 2.2 The DFFE led a process to develop the Forestry Sector Masterplan. The Masterplan which is essentially a growth, transformation, and investment plan for the sector was approved by Cabinet in November 2020. The plan is currently in its second year of implementation and several areas require capacity-building and Skills Development initiatives. This is a result of new participants in the name of previously disadvantaged groups and individuals entering the market through programmes such as new afforestation, transfer of category B and C plantations, and the land reform process. Through these processes, about close to 50% of forested land in the country could be in the hands of black people who do not know about managing plantations.
- 2.3 The Department of Forestry, Fisheries, and the Environment has just finalised a strategy on post-settlement. Training is regarded as an integral part of the support mechanisms provided to empower and capacitate Small Micro and Medium Enterprises in the Forestry Sector. This strategy has highlighted that communities and individuals who enter the sector have the potential to participate in the market and might not have the technical and business know-how of managing the enterprise optimally. It is important to support interventions to empower the beneficiaries of the enterprises to manage them optimally and to ensure the maximisation of profit.

- 2.4 The DFFE has therefore recognised the crucial role played by the small, medium, and micro enterprises in the forest sector and the national economy, especially in areas such as job creation and in creating opportunities for broad-based black economic empowerment. In this regard, efforts are being made to bring stability and sustainability to the existing SMMEs in the forest sector and to ensure that black people are brought into the mainstream forest sector economy.
