Additional Definitions and Additional Interpretation for Consideration in the Contract Data

DEFINITIONS AND ADDITIONAL INTERPRETATION

Budgetary Allowances

Budgetary allowances are for all work not defined during tender stage. The related scope of works once known and agreed between the client and the professional team, the sub-contract tenders are called for from an agreed list between the Contractor and the Principal Agent with a minimum of 3 sub-contractors. A recommendation is submitted to the client for approval and a contract instruction is issued formalising the sub-contractor appointment.

Compensatory Interest

Once the practical completion is reached a payment certificate is agreed upon and the contractor submits the invoice to the Employer, the Employer must pay the contractor within 31 days of issuing of the payment certificate. Payment cycles are run twice a month, on the 15th and on the 30th to mitigate for potential delay in the payment cycle. Failure to do so the contractor can claim interest based on the applied interest rate at that period. The interest due to late payments could be based on the interest data from the client's bank.

No Compensatory Interest applies unless the delay for failure to pay is directly attributable to the default by the Employer. The Employer is not liable for the default of the Principal Agent

17.0 Contract Instruction

In general, the approval of any deviation which does not form part of the original scope of works must be approved by the Employer. The contractor shall await the approval of the deviation before executing the works on site, as evidenced by a specific written instruction to the PA issued under the hand of the project manager of the Employer

The ability of the Agents to issue instruction regarding the works is critical for successful management of the project. The limitation of authority should not be intended to prevent the PA from exercising his duties in terms of the contract but to identify specific decisions which need to be authorized by the Employer (for project governance) not for the client to make a different decision. All the work that needs to be approved that has a cost bearing over and above the may works and report such to the Employer. The Employer allows the PA to make a fair assessment in the administration of the project and advise the Employer of any deviations in the works.

Where the contract instructions will result in a cost adjustment (up or down) to the contract sum or value, the PA in consultation with other agents on the project (such as the QS) will prepare a cost variation for such contract instruction prior to the carrying out the specific works. Such a variation will have to be recommended for approval to the Employer and once approved the PA will issue a contract instruction on site. The employer approval will be evidenced by a specific written instruction to the PA issued under the hand of the project manager of the Employer

Any instruction that may have the effect of changing the designs or plan for the works or the works programme must be approved by the Employer prior to the execution thereof. The Employer's approval must be evidenced by a specific written instruction to the PA issued under the hand of the project manager of the Employer

Default Interest

Once the interim payment certificate is agreed upon and the contractor submits the invoice to the Employer, the Employer must pay the contractor within 31 days..

No default Interest applies unless the delay for failure to pay is directly attributable to the default by the Employer. The Principal Agent default is not attributable to the Employer.

Final Payment Certificate shall be administered according to Clause 25 and 26 of the main agreement.

The employer's approval must be evidenced by a specific written instruction to the PA issued under the hand of the project manager of the Employer

The Employer may recover from the contractor default interest and advance payment recoupment. Contractor may recover compensatory interest or damages.

14.0 & 15.0 Nominated/Select Sub-Contractor
