01.	I would like to ask if our firm is not a very big firm with many people for example if we have 1 director 2 senior attorneys and 2 candidate attorneys and we apply for 3 categories is it ohk if we use the same people for all those 3 categories that we choose, or should it be different people for each category. Answer: Yes - they can use the same people as long as their experience will support and expose the required skill set for each category.
