1. INTRODUCTION

One of the core mandates of the GPF is to raise capital to increase the GPF's Capital Base. GPF provides funding to developers of affordable and social housing, as well as student accommodation. GPF typically provides junior debt and enters into partnerships or joint ventures with third-party investors who provide the senior debt. In terms of these joint partnerships, joint ventures, or similar arrangements, the GPF will provide loans to developers for its own account and manage third-party funds usually on a discretionary basis in respect of the senior debt.

The Capital Raising programme focuses on sourcing funding to support the implementation of the project, lending and investment activities. The capital-raising strategy and plan in this regard focuses on off-balance sheet structures.

2. THE OBJECTIVES OF THE PROJECT

GPF will be the managing partner in the partnership or joint venture. Generally, the GPF partner(s) will not be involved in the day-to-day operations. In return for managing the partnership, the partners will pay GPF a management fee. In addition, the partnership will pay costs such as audit fees, legal fees directly related to the loans advanced by the partnership to developers.

GPF will use its governance structures, processes, and policies to process loans from origination until the loan is fully repaid. GPF will typically approve two loans, one (junior loan) for GPF's own account and the other (senior loan) on behalf of partner(s). These loans, together with the developer's (borrower) own contribution will be used to build and rent out the units developed.

GPF requires a Service Provider to assist in all aspects leading up to the raising of capital from third-party investors and ensure that the partnership is implemented in accordance with agreements, applicable laws and regulations as well as reporting in terms of international best practices and conventions.

The GPF will consider a sliding scale fee for capital raised as follows:
