CERTIFICATE OF INDEPENDENT BID DETERMINATION

- 1 This Standard Bidding Document (SBD) must form part of all bids¹ invited.
- 2 Section 4 (1) (b) (iii) of the Competition Act No. 89 of 1998, as amended, prohibits an agreement between, or concerted practice by, firms, or a decision by an association of firms, if it is between parties in a horizontal relationship and if it involves collusive bidding (or bid rigging).² Collusive bidding is a pe se prohibition meaning that it cannot be justified under any grounds.
- 3 Treasury Regulation 16A9 prescribes that accounting officers and accounting authorities must take all reasonable steps to prevent abuse of the supply chain management system and authorizes accounting officers and accounting authorities to:
 - a. disregard the bid of any bidder if that bidder, or any of its directors have abused the institution's supply chain management system and or committed fraud or any other improper conduct in relation to such system.
 - b. cancel a contract awarded to a supplier of goods and services if the supplier committed any corrupt or fraudulent act during the bidding process or the execution of that contract.
- 4 This SBD serves as a certificate of declaration that would be used by institutions to ensure that, when bids are considered, reasonable steps are taken to prevent any form of bid-rigging.
- 5 In order to give effect to the above, the attached Certificate of Bid Determination (SBD 9) must be completed and submitted with the bid:

² Bid rigging (or collusive bidding) occurs when businesses, that would otherwise be expected to compete, secretly conspire to raise prices or lower the quality of goods and / or services for purchasers who wish to acquire goods and / or services through a bidding process. Bid rigging is, therefore, an agreement between competitors not to compete.

As a result, policy makers are focusing on unlocking the potentials of internet access, which includes creating an enabling infrastructural environment, bridging the digital divide, and providing affordable data prices and devices.
- 1.3 ³The National Development Plan (NDP) a blueprint or guiding document for South Africa aims to eradicate poverty and reduce inequality by 2030. In that light, a Presidential Commission on the 4IR was established to develop an integrated national response strategy aimed at ensuring that by 2030 technology innovation will uplift the societies socio-economic status. ⁴The report outlines the strategy planned to respond to the 4IR, gazetted in October 2020. The report was crafted with plans to aspire an enabling environment, policy and legislation that would translate to lowering the cost of data.
- 1.4 The DCDT, recognizes the significance and importance of data access as a driving factor that may help South Africa become more competitive in the global market and prosper economically. It is also critical that the cost of communication services be reasonable to all communities for the populace to have access to data services.
- 1.5 This is not currently the case in South Africa. For example, the study conducted by ⁵Research ICT Africa's Retail African Mobile Pricing (RAMP) Index, indicates that the cost of data in South Africa is still high. The report stated that data cost can still be further reduced. Yet again, the research stipulated that South Africa performed poorly among other African countries, ranking 33rd out of 46 in terms of the price of 1GB.
- 1.6 Among the critical factors for the successful implementation of low data prices is the Government regulations that should ensure that everyone in the country can afford the price of data, especially the poor consumers. ⁶In South Africa, most citizens cannot afford to go online due to data costs, lack of internet-enabled devices and digital literacy, all of which are associated with high unemployment which has risen from 32.5% in the last quarter of 2020 to 32.6% during the first quarter of 2021.

- 1.7 Over the past year, the DCDT has been working in collaboration with regulatory agencies, mainly the Independent Communications Authority of South Africa (ICASA) and the Competition Commission, focusing on the reduction of data costs in South Africa. In December 2019, Competition Commission released the final report of the Data Services Market Inquiry, which was conducted to understand and investigate factors or features of the market that led to high cost for data services⁷.
- 1.8 The report confirmed that, the cost of data services, predominantly on prepaid prices is high when benchmarked to other peer countries again the profitability for mobile network operators (MNOs) in South Africa exceeds that of other MNOs in similar markets. The DCDT acting in collaboration with the aforementioned regulators, initiated various interventions that were undertaken and resulted in the reduction of average data prices by approximately 33%-35% per 1GB across major operators.
- 1.9 Lastly, in line with the ministerial COVID19 policy directions for the coronavirus pandemic, ICASA gazetted regulations that prescribed minimum standards that licensees must adhere to for the COVID-19 lockdown. High-demand spectrum was temporarily released to ease network congestion, maintain good quality of broadband services for consumers. Some of the Department of Basic Education and Health sites where zero rated which resulted in less expenditure for consumers on data cost.
