Inspiring A Nation Of Winners

1. INTRODUCTION

The purpose of these terms of reference is to procure a service provider who manage the process of implementing the recommendations of a feasibility study for the amalgamation of DSAC public entities.

2. BACKGROUND

- 2.1 The former Department of Arts and Culture appointed a service provider to conduct a feasibility study on the amalgamation of public entities reporting to the Department. The Department then consisted of 25 public entities in the Heritage, Performing Arts, Development Agencies, Libraries and Constitutional entity. The feasibility study was commissioned with the aim to investigate the potential for amalgamation of public entities to improve corporate governance and operational efficiency, enhance the development reach and the impact on the arts, culture and heritage sector and to ensure that the funding available is optimally allocated.

The Department formally adopted the recommendations of the feasibility study. Subsequently a task team was appointed to ensure a successful implementation of the recommendations of the feasibility study. Due to capacity constraints, a decision was taken to procure services of a service provider to manage the process, while working with the task team during its period of appointment. The service provider will ensure that deliverables as stipulated in the feasibility study are implemented and finalised. The service provider will advise the task team on the best possible cost-effective way of implementing the recommendations of the adopted and preferred model for the amalgamation of DSAC public entities. It is expected that at the end of the assignment, the Department will have consolidated public entities in line with the

DSAC 03/23-24

@SportArtsCultur

@SportArtsCultureRSA

recommendation of the feasibility study. The recommended model for the amalgamation of public entities is stated below.

A. Performing Arts Company

The single entity established for the amalgamation of the current five performing arts companies (Artscape, South African State Theatre, Performing Arts Centre of the Free State, The Playhouse Company, The Market Theatre Foundation) will have a single council and function with five autonomous divisions. The council should drive operational efficiency through shared services in particular areas where centres of excellence and shared resources are possible. The Performing Arts Company will include the Mandela Bay Theatre Complex which was declared after the feasibility study was completed.

B. Iziko Museums of South Africa

The existing National Museum: Bloemfontein and William Humphreys Art Gallery will be amalgamated into the Iziko Museums as similar operating divisions to their existing multiple museums and sites. It should be emphasised that these entities should not lose their operational identity by becoming part of Iziko but continue to represent themselves to the market as they are while reaping the benefits of shared back-office administration and improved policies, procedures and compliance functions.

DSAC 03/23-24

@SportArtsCultur

@SportArtsCultureRSA

C. Ditsong Museums of South Africa

The KwaZulu-Natal Museum will be amalgamated into Ditsong while retaining its operational identity as the KwaZulu-Natal Museum and reaping the benefits of amalgamation into a larger entity.

D. National Liberation Museum

The current six museums (Freedom Park, Robben Island, Nelson Mandela Museum, Luthuli Museum, uMsunduzi and War Museum of the Boer Republics) could conceivably be merged into a single national liberation museum. This requires the formation of a new flagship with the amalgamated entity led by a single CEO with directors for each museum.

E. National Language and Libraries Entity

This entity would be established through the amalgamation of Amazwi – South African Museum of Literature, National Library of South Africa, the South African Library for the Blind and the Afrikaanse Taalmuseum en-monument. It is acknowledged that this entity includes two types of entities namely, libraries and language museums but it is believed that there is sufficient alignment to warrant creation of these as a single flagship entity with the option for adding additional language museums in future. Accordingly, an alternative design of separating this entity into two amalgamated entities is not recommended.

F. The National Arts and Audio-Visual Council

Should be created as a single entity amalgamating the activities of the National Arts Council and the National Film and Video Foundation. These two entities

DSAC 03/23-24

@SportArtsCultur

@SportArtsCultureRSA

currently operate from separate offices and, should in due course co-locate to a single office where full operational and administration efficiencies can be achieved. From the outset, it is recommended that the entity operate as a single integrated entity with focus areas for the different arts sectors and activities.

G. The South African National Heritage Council

This council is established out of the amalgamation of the National Heritage Council and the South African Heritage Resources Agency. All the current activities of these two entities continue to take place, requiring the existing functional departments to stay on largely in place. Accordingly, it is proposed that this entity will operate from two locations in Cape Town and Pretoria. The entity will, however, be governed by a single council made up of representatives from the flagship entities, independent board members and representatives from the provincial heritage resource agencies. The proposed governance structure for this council is somewhat large but has been kept in line with the recommendations from the draft White Paper.

The service provider will therefore be appointed to assist with Project Management of the amalgamation for public entities mentioned in Paragraph 2 (A to D) above. The recommendations of the feasibility study are not a directive and therefore will be subject to final approval by the Department's management and the Executive Authority. A copy of the feasibility study will be made available to a successful bidder.
