SECTION 4: SPECIFICATIONS / SCOPE OF WORKS / TERMS OF REFERENCES

4.1 Background

The installation of a perimeter fence along the boundary of O.R. Tambo International Airport (ORTIA) landside, George Airport, Upington International Airport, Kimberly Airport, and Airports Company South Africa (ACSA) corporate offices (Western Precinct) is a critical project aimed at enhancing security, safety, and operational efficiency. This initiative aligns with the South African Civil Aviation Authority (SACAA) regulations and international standards for airport infrastructure. The fence will serve as a robust barrier to prevent unauthorized access and potential threats to the airport and corporate office facilities. This project is vital to safeguard assets, mitigate risks, and ensure compliance with regulatory and safety requirements. To this end, ACSA recognizes the importance of a well-conceptualized design for the installation of high-security perimeter fences.

This requisition seeks to engage a qualified consultant to develop a comprehensive conceptual design for perimeter fencing at the following facilities:

O.R. Tambo International Airport (Landside area)

George Airport (airside perimeter)

Upington International Airport (airside perimeter)

Kimberly Airport (airside perimeter)

ACSA Corporate Offices (Western Precinct)

The ORTIA has experienced an increase in unauthorized access to its parking lot, leading to incidents such as car tire theft and raising safety concerns for passengers and staff. The absence of a secure boundary fence has left the premises vulnerable to such occurrences. Implementing a secure fencing solution will mitigate these issues by acting as a physical barrier to prevent unauthorized access, including the entry of homeless individuals into the airport parking lot. The parking barrier on ground floor need to be extended and emergency doors need to be replaced. This will enhance the safety of staff, passengers, and their assets while reducing potential threats to aviation operations and infrastructure. Additionally, the fence will facilitate easy monitoring and patrols, minimizing perimeter breaches and disruptions to airport operations.

George Airport is facing significant challenges with its current perimeter fencing, which has become inadequate and unstable over time. The fence, situated adjacent to a farm, is frequently subjected to pressure from livestock, particularly cows, which rub against it, causing the structure to loosen and bend. This persistent issue compromises the security and integrity of the airport's boundary. Additionally, animals have been observed digging under the fence, further exacerbating the problem by creating breaches that allow wildlife to enter the airport premises. The existing fence, constructed using wooden poles, is outdated and lacks the stability and durability required to address these ongoing issues effectively. Given these challenges, the airport has identified an urgent need for a new fencing solution and seeks to engage a consultant to develop a comprehensive conceptual design. The current fence will not be suitable for the installation of PIDS.

Upington airport perimeter fence consists of an old wooden-support diamond wire mesh fence installed more than 20 years ago. The fence protects critical airport installation such as runway lighting, approach lights and other aviation operations and assets. The wooden-support fence is old, and the wire mesh has rusted and in places it can be broken with bare hands without much effort. The wooden support is a risk in the event of fire as they could burn and render the perimeter vulnerable to being breached. Upington airport unfortunately has an aircraft storage parking facility and SAAF along a section of its perimeter. The current fence is old and breached on several occasions near the aircraft facility. As a result, maintenance around the fence and security operations have increased for the Airport. The fence falls short of the ICAO standards and NASP requirements, it is non-compliant with the SACAA, and findings have been issued. The current fence will not be suitable for the installation of PIDS.

Kimberly Airport faces similar challenges with its perimeter fencing. The existing wooden-pole fence is unstable and unable to withstand external pressures or environmental factors. Small animals frequently dig under the fence, creating breaches that allow wildlife to enter the premises, posing serious security concerns and disrupting airport operations. A stable, durable fencing solution is critical to resolving these issues effectively and to be able to carry the PIDS.

Similarly, installing a perimeter fence along the boundary of the ACSA corporate offices is essential to enhance security, safeguard assets, and ensure controlled access to the premises. This project will provide a durable and effective physical barrier to deter unauthorized entry, protect against potential threats, and maintain the safety of employees and infrastructure. Furthermore, the installation aligns with ACSA's commitment to security compliance and reflects the professional image of the corporate offices through a thoughtfully designed and aesthetically pleasing solution. Together, these fencing initiatives will create a safer and more secure environment for both the airports and the corporate offices, ensuring operational efficiency and asset protection.

The installation of new perimeter fences at O.R. Tambo International Airport, George Airport, Upington International Airport, Kimberly Airport, and ACSA corporate offices is essential to enhance security, safety, and operational efficiency. The current fences are outdated and vulnerable, leading to issues such as unauthorized access, wildlife breaches, and structural weaknesses. This initiative aligns with SACAA regulations and international standards, ensuring compliance, asset protection, and readiness for advanced security systems like Perimeter Intrusion Detection Systems (PIDS). By addressing these challenges, ACSA aims to create secure, durable, and efficient environments across its facilities, reinforcing its commitment to safety and operational excellence.

4.2 Brief description of specifications or scope of works

Enterprise Security formally request the engagement of a qualified consultant to develop a conceptual design for the installation of a perimeter fence along the boundary of O.R. Tambo International Airport (ORTIA), George Airport, Upington International Airport, Kimberly Airport, and Airports Company South Africa (ACSA) corporate offices. This project is essential to enhance the security of the airport and corporate office premises, mitigate unauthorized access, and safeguard assets, staff, and passengers.

The scope of work for the consultant will include:

- Conducting a detailed site survey and assessment of the boundary areas to determine specific security and boundary needs.
- Developing a conceptual design for the fence that includes material selection, height, structure, and security features (e.g., anti-climb features, emergency gates, access-controlled gates and including lights).
- Ensuring the design complies with regulatory standards set by the South African Civil Aviation Authority (SACAA) and other relevant authorities.
- Taking into consideration aesthetic and environmental factors, particularly for sections adjacent to the ACSA corporate offices.

The deliverables from the consultant will include a conceptual design plan, cost estimation, project timeline, and any necessary recommendations for future maintenance and monitoring. The information provided on the report must be clear to utilized in the procurement process to appoint a construction contractor to build and install all the activities stated above.

SECTION 5: RETURNABLE DOCUMENTS

4.1 Mandatory Returnable documents

ACSA will disqualify from the bid process any bidder that has failed to submit mandatory returnable documents and information. Bidders should therefore ensure that all the mandatory returnable documents and information have been submitted. In order to assist bidders, ACSA has also included a column next to the required mandatory document and information to enable bidders to keep track of whether they have submitted or not.
