4. POINTS AWARDED FOR SPECIFIC GOALS

- 4.1. In terms of Regulation 4(2); 5(2); 6(2) and 7(2) of the Preferential Procurement Regulations, preference points must be awarded for specific goals stated in the tender. For the purposes of this tender the tenderer will be allocated points based on the goals stated in table 1 below as may be supported by proof/ documentation stated in the conditions of this tender:
- 4.2. In cases where organs of state intend to use Regulation 3(2) of the Regulations, which states that, if it is unclear whether the 80/20 or 90/10 preference point system applies, an organ of state must, in the tender documents, stipulate in the case of—
- (a) an invitation for tender for income-generating contracts, that either the 80/20 or 90/10 preference point system will apply and that the highest acceptable tender will be used to determine the applicable preference point system; or
 - (b) any other invitation for tender, that either the 80/20 or 90/10 preference point system will apply and that the lowest acceptable tender will be used to determine the applicable preference point system, then the organ of state must indicate the points allocated for specific goals for both the 90/10 and 80/20 preference point system.

Table 1: Specific goals for the tender and points claimed are indicated per the table below.

(Note to organs of state: Where either the 90/10 or 80/20 preference point system is applicable, corresponding points must also be indicated as such.

Note to tenderers: The tenderer must indicate how they claim points for each preference point system.)

SECTION C – TERMS OF REFERENCE, EVALUATION CRITERIA AND PRICING SCHEDULE

9. TERMS OF REFERENCE

1. PURPOSE

The IUCMA intends to appoint a Professional Service Provider (PSP) with a team of hydrogeological specialists to assist the IUCMA to develop a groundwater management plan for the Inkomati-Usuthu Water Management Area. The IUCMA has geohydrologists in-house but given the scope of the work and the period of time the project must be completed, additional resource is therefore sought from external specialist support services. The specialists will also be assigned any additional work that they arise from the division in relation to geohydrological services. Groundwater Management Plan is created for areas throughout the Water Management Area to promote wise use of the ground-water, protect existing water rights, and address water quality issues and over-appropriation of ground water.

2. BACKGROUND

The Inkomati-Usuthu Catchment Management Agency (IUCMA) is the water resource management authority established in terms of Section 78 of the National Water Act 36 of 1998 (NWA). The mandate of the IUCMA is to perform water resource management at the local level within the Inkomati-Usuthu Water Management Area (WMA). As promulgated by Section 80 of the NWA, the initial functions of the IUCMA include investigation and advice on the protection, use, development conservation, management, and control of the water resources in its WMA.

As per Peter Drucker's (Drucker 2015) infamous saying that one cannot manage and plan what one cannot measure, groundwater management requires quantitative estimates which is a prerequisite step for devising informed groundwater management. In 2022, the IUCMA completed a groundwater balance of the Inkomati-Usuthu WMA which found that the groundwater potential has decreased by approximately 50% with the corresponding decrease in groundwater contribution to streamflow in some catchments.

Observations that are being made from the monitoring data are that historic groundwater levels in some catchment areas are recovering from the impacts of the 2015/2016 drought, whilst some have continued to decline. Consequently, as part of the groundwater strategy, a study was completed in 2022 by IUCMA to delineate groundwater resource units (GRUs) and undertake groundwater balances for respective GRUs within the Inkomati-Usuthu WMA. The study has shown that some areas are critically stressed whilst some are unstressed. The outcome of the two studies outlined above highlighted the need for groundwater management plans under the premise that groundwater management means making decisions aimed at achieving the system's goals, without violating specified constraints imposed on it.

In practice, groundwater is often managed separately from (1) surface water, though it is part of the overall hydrological cycle, both in quantity and quality; (2) urban wastewater, though it simultaneously represents an additional resource and a potential pollution threat to groundwater; (3) land management, though aquifers are threatened by pollution from urbanization, industrial development, agricultural activity, and mining enterprises. A groundwater management plan should be part of a Catchment Management Strategy to avoid these situations. Thus, the groundwater management plan identifies actions necessary to contribute to an effective groundwater resources management framework. It uses approaches of stakeholder participation and Capacity Building, sets needs in the wider social and economic framework, and recognises the local hydrogeological, socioeconomic, and institutional situation.

3. AIM

This study aims to develop a groundwater management plan (GMP) (action-oriented framework describing how groundwater and related land resources should be developed and managed) for all the catchments in the WMA to ensure that:

- 1) the resource is shared between users,
- 2) impacts on third parties (e.g., environmental flows) are minimized and
- 3) the environment and long-term sustainability of the resource is protected.

4. SCOPE OF WORK

The envisaged groundwater management plan (GMP) will cover the Inkomati Usuthu WMA which comprises four catchments as outlined in Table 1. The study is aimed to be conducted through a phased approach as outlined below.

- i. Phase 1: Develop Management Objectives which may entail, but is not limited to, the description of Management objectives (i.e., specific performance objectives that are proposed to be used to decipher the performance of or guide the implementation of management measures) that will be monitored and assessed to report on the performance of the GMP.
- ii. Phase 2: Development of Management Plans (administration, policy, technical) which will include, but not limited to, the following:
 - identifying the triggers (in the form of groundwater levels or rates of water level decline, groundwater storages, and/or groundwater draft (abstraction and transpiration) that should not be violated).
 - identifying monitoring boreholes at which triggers are to be determined and to which areas the triggers apply.
 - consider issues of population growth, climate change impacts, and socio-economic developments within the catchments.
 - development of groundwater protection (quality and quantity) considering the prevailing land and groundwater utilisation in the WMA
- iii. Phase 3: Develop a program to monitor and report on the performance (monitoring, data management, and evaluation) of the developed groundwater management plans against the set objectives of the plan.
- iv. Phase 4: Closeout Report: A report shall be compiled documenting the project approach, methodologies, results, challenges, and recommendations.

- v. The specialists will also be assigned any other work which may arise and not related to this project as deemed fit by the Head of Division.

NB: The study shall be based on the site-specific groundwater situation assessment based on already available data, to be provided by IUCMA; therefore, the study will not require any field work or ground truthing of the data.

IUCMA will disqualify a bidder who does not achieve full compliance with the prequalification after the grace period provided by IUCMA.
