2 Overview of the work

2.1 Executive Overview

The Dry Bulk (DBT) and Multipurpose (MPT) Terminals’ core business is the handling of bulk and dry bulk commodities. A network of conveyors, storage areas, fleet, cranes, and transfer houses form the bulk of the infrastructure for the port operations. In addition, tipplers, ship unloaders, mobile stackers, portal re-claimers and ship loaders are some of the larger equipment that is used to handle the product that is loaded and offloaded at the two terminals.

In order to achieve the handling of high volumes, the port requires operation on a 7 day/24-hour basis and hence there is a requirement to always have all the necessary support services that are essential in ensuring maximum plant uptime and minimum delay times. Effective oil spill management is vital for protecting the environment, economy, and public health. It prevents ecological devastation, reduces economic losses, and ensures compliance with regulations. Preparedness enhances emergency response capabilities. By implementing robust spill management plans, industries mitigate risks, demonstrate responsibility, and uphold environmental custodianship. This approach is essential for sustaining businesses and preserving ecosystems in the face of potential disasters.

The purpose of this scope of work is for provision of oil spill management services at the Port of Richards Bay for a period of six (06) months on an as and when required basis.

2.2 Main Work Information

The contractor is required to provide oil spill services as per the following but not limited to:

- 2.2.1 Initial Assessment and Planning (Callout)
- 2.2.2 Oil Spill Response and Containment
- 2.2.3 Oil Recovery and Clean-up
