

PSG get Real in revised Champs League draw

Glitches force Uefa to redo match-ups

London - Paris St Germain will face Real Madrid in a titanic clash in the last 16 of the Champions League while Manchester United take on Atletico Madrid after Uefa declared the original draw void due to a technical error in the process yesterday.

Earlier, United were mistakenly drawn with Villarreal, even though both teams had already faced each other in the group stage while the Premier League side's ball was not added to the bowl as a potential opponent for Atletico Madrid.

United were eventually drawn with PSG while Atletico drew Bayern Munich before the draw was scrapped after the Spanish side complained and Uefa admitted the error.

PSG's initial draw with United was a highly anticipated

ed battle between Cristiano Ronaldo and Lionel Messi - the competition's two top goal scorers. The pair have won 12 of the last 13 Ballon d'Or awards for player of the year - with Messi leading 7-5 after victory in 2021.

Real Madrid had also attempted to prise French forward Kylian Mbappe from PSG in the close season but ultimately failed after the Ligue 1 side rejected their bids.

United's Ronaldo, meanwhile, will relish a tie against Atletico having scored 25 goals against them for Real and Juventus.

Holders Chelsea will face French champions Lille, just as they were drawn in the original draw, while six-times champions Bayern Munich will now face RB Salzburg - the first Austrian side to qualify for the knockout stages.

Last year's runners-up

Liverpool take on Inter Milan with another trip to the San Siro after Jurgen Klopp's side beat AC Milan twice in the group stage.

Uefa also experienced technical issues while conducting the third-tier Conference League draw later.

LAST-16 DRAW

Rohit ruled out of series against SA

De Kock could also miss last two test matches

Delhi - India batsman Rohit Sharma has been ruled out of the three-test series against South Africa due to a hamstring injury and will be replaced by Priyank Panchal, the country's cricket board (BCCI) said yesterday.

Rohit, who replaced Virat Kohli as India's white-ball skipper last week, picked up the injury to his left hamstring during a training session in Mumbai on Sunday.

Panchal, 31, was part of the India 'A' side that played in a three-match unofficial test series in South Africa earlier this month.

The first test is scheduled to start in Pretoria from December 26.

Meanwhile, the home team's wicketkeeper-batter Quinton de Kock could also miss the second and third test matches, with his wife expecting the birth of their child in early January, ESPN Cricinfo website reported.

The second test is set to start on January 3 in Johannesburg, while the final test is scheduled for January 11 in Cape Town. The teams will then play three one-day internationals.

De Kock last featured for SA at the Twenty20 World Cup, where he opted to sit out their second group game following a board order to take a knee in support of the "Black Lives Matter" movement.

He later apologised for his decision and took a knee in the following three matches as South Africa were knocked out in the Super 12 stage of the competition. - Reuters
